Sen. Kuchel Still Is Chilly Toward Barry Candidacy

Inspects Marin Flood Project; Touring With Rep. Clausen

By WAT TAKESHITA

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, maintaining his chilly attitude toward the Barry Goldwater candidacy, toured College of Marin today with Rep. Don. H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) for a first-hand inspection of the Corte Madera Flood Control Project.

The Senior United States Senator from California said he is not eyeing the governorship, and as for his stand on the Goldwater-Miller ticket, "I will make a carefully written statement in the next few days."

Meanwhile, Senator Kuchel said, he stands by a statement he made in the past: "The Republican platform adopted in San Francisco turned its back on almost every decent, constructive thing in the Republican Party since Abraham Lincoln."

"I have no plans at all for running for California governor," said Kuchel. "I am not responsible for the occasional pieces in the paper about that, although I appreciate the mention."

Accompanying Senator Kuchel and Rep. Clausen on the Corte Madera Creek inspection were State Sen. John F. McCarthy, Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Army Corps of Engineers representatives headed by Col. Robert Allen, district engineer.

Colonel Allen said the 7.1-million-dollar Corte Madera Flood Control Project is scheduled to start in 1967 and be completed in 1968 or 1969.

The federal government will provide 5.8 million dollars, with most of the 1.3 million dollars to come from the state. Marin County would be responsible for maintenance of the creek, which would cost about $26,000 per year.

At College of Marin, school officials headed by College President Stepher E. Epler greeted the visiting delegation. Dr. Epler; Joseph Gargiulo, vice president of the college board of trustees; and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, clerk of the board, guided the legislators on a tour

President Goes After Farm Vote

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Lyndon B. Johnson said today "Americans don't want to gamble with Social Security." And he argued that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's farm policies would spell disaster.

Mingling these issues with a recital of his peace-and-prosperity theme, Johnson flew into the Middle West—"America's heartland," he called it—to get started on a six-day campaign tour of 11 states from Ohio to California.

Johnson, in a speech prepared for delivery from the courthouse steps at Peoria, Ill., called Social Security "one of the most important issues of this campaign."

The president said some people want to make the program voluntary. And he said this would "bankrupt the system."

Goldwater has called for voluntary Social Security, but not lately. More recently, the Republican presidential candidate has spoken about protecting the program from amendments which he says would destroy it. He includes medical insurance for the aged in that category.

On farm policy, the president took more direct issue with Goldwater. This came in a speech prepared for his first

County Parks Group Seeks Use Of Lake

Wants Phoenix Dam Restored For Recreation

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission today passed a resolution calling for the restoration of Phoenix Lake dam.

The alternative to restoration, estimated to cost $200,000, is removal of the dam, estimated to cost $50,000, reported William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District.

STANDBY BASIS

Seeger said he could not recommend that the water district spend the funds for restoration because the water is surplus and the lake has been on a standby basis only.

In its resolution, the commission recommended the county cooperate in retaining the lake.

Commissioners indicated they favor recreational use of the lake and its surroundings to remain about as it is at present, rather than have intensive development.

WHO PAYS?

Commissioner James Fletcher said the lake must be maintained as a recreational area at all costs. "I think the beauty would best be maintained by retaining the present use," he said. "The question is, who picks up the tab?"

Ross town councilman Roy Farrington Jones said Ross residents are concerned about any development that would create a high volume of traffic along Lagunitas Road.

Barry Says LBJ Powers 'Not Safe'

COMBINED AP & UPI

Sen. Barry M. Goldwater flew into New Jersey today to tell a cheering breakfast audience at Atlantic City that it is "not safe" to have so much power available to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Republican presidential nominee pledged that if he is elected he will reduce the powers of the presidency, which, he said, have grown to dangerous proportions.

Goldwater said that as matters stand under Johnson, the executive branch is running the government. He said there had been "usurpation" of the authority of Congress.

"That much power is not safe lying around for one man to use," the Arizona senator said.

Goldwater is to arrive in San Francisco Friday from Los Angeles to speak to a $1,000-a-plate

St. Louis Thumps Yankees 9-5 In World Series Opener

Cardinals Rally For 4 Runs In 6th Inning

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A four-run rally in the sixth inning highlighted by rookie Mike Shannon's homer and Curt Flood's decisive triple carried the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-5 victory over the favored New York Yankees in the opening game of the 1964 World Series today.

Trailing 4-2 going into the bottom of the sixth, the Cards drew even on Shannon's mighty shot off the left field scoreboard after a single by Ken Boyer. Tim McCarver's double knocked out Whitey Ford, the Yanks' ace left-hander, then Carl Warwick's pinch single and Flood's triple knocked in two more runs off Al Downing.

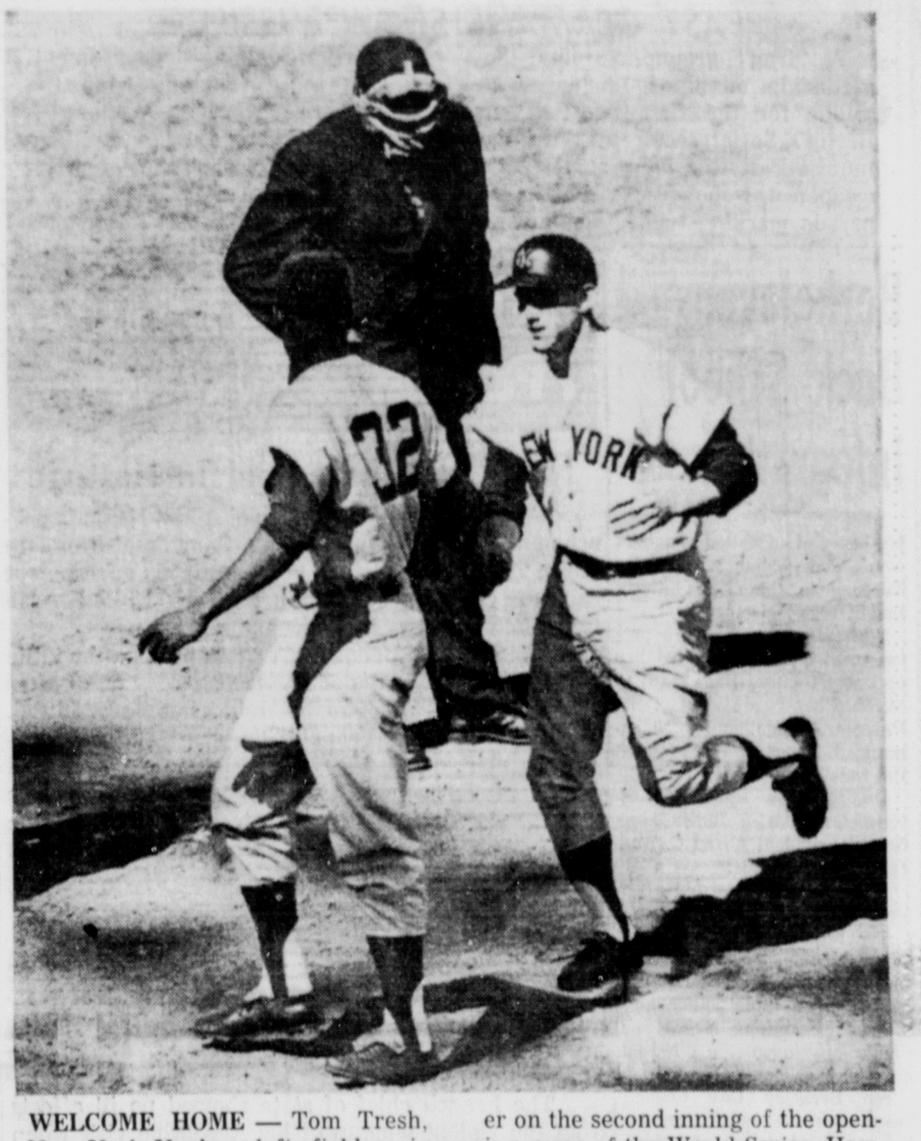

Flood's single and Lou Brock's double drove in three runs after two were out in the eighth for the National Leaguers, wrapping it up.

Young Ray Sadecki was the winning pitcher, with relief from 38-year-old knuckleballer Barney Schultz, and the loss went to Ford, holder of a flock of Series pitching records. The Yankee southpaw, in his 22nd Series game, suffered his eighth defeat against 10 victories.

Tommy Tresh drove in three of the Yanks' first four runs with a homer and double and the American League champions made it 6-5 with a run in the eighth.

Meningitis Kills Woman On Peninsula

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—A Millbrae girl died of meningitis Tuesday, two days after she met a soldier from Fort Ord where an outbreak of the disease this year has killed 13.

Whether the death of Patricia Arsenault, 20, could possibly be linked to the Fort Ord cases—84 this year—is under investigation.

Miss Arsenault, a College of San Mateo graduate, was stricken at her home Tuesday afternoon and died three and one-half hours later in Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame.

The San Mateo County coroner, Paul Jensen, confirmed today that meningitis was the cause of death, the first fatal case of the disease in the county this year.

Cultures for at least 24 hours will be required to determine the type of meningitis.

The Fort Ord soldier Miss Arsenault, a hair stylist, met Sunday at a party at her home had been tested for meningitis and proved negative, the coroner said. The soldier had just completed his eight weeks basic training without leaving Fort Ord and had not been home in 10 weeks.

General Motors Agrees On Pact At Some Plants

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) reached agreement on a new national labor contract today covering 25,000 employes in five GM plants.

The pattern follows that of the company's agreement with the United Auto Workers Union in both economic and non-economic areas.

The IUE represents GM employes in the Frigidaire and Delco Products divisions in Dayton, Ohio; Delco appliance plant at Rochester, N.Y.; Delco Battery plant at New Brunswick, N.J., and Packard Electric plant at Warren, Ohio.

State Employment Up; Jobless Stays Same

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State officials announced today that employment in California climbed to a new high last month — but the unemployment rate stubbornly remained at 6.3 per cent of the work force.

Total civilian employment moved up to 6,827,000, topping the previous record set in August by 102,000. A total of 363,000 Californians were unemployed last month — 13,000 more than in September, 1963.

Food Supply Strike's Ripples Touch Marin

A strike-lockout dispute that started over wage and fringe benefit demands between the Teamsters Union and grocery wholesale houses in Southern California Sept. 13 was felt in Marin County today.

But the impact, so far, was mild.

The dispute started when employers turned down a 33-cent wage-benefit demand. Picketing had been confined to Southern California until yesterday, but last night pickets took to the air to fly to Richmond and San Diego and some eastern cities.

Safeway Store's warehouse is in Richmond. Evidently the dispute there caused some deliveries to arrive late in Marin. San Rafael manager Sam Miller said produce and meat deliveries were about an hour late.

He said it is impossible to predict what the effects of the dispute will be. He said there is no problem with keeping shelves stocked, since deliveries can be had from several sources.

Talks Resume On Meat Delivery Rift

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Negotiations resumed today in efforts to end a dispute that halted delivery of fresh meat to Bay Area hotels and restaurants.

Some 2,000 butchers were idled when 40 meat jobbers locked their doors yesterday in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley and San Leandro. The jobbers said they acted because a strike threatened by the butchers could come at any moment and catch the jobbers with huge supplies of perishable meat in their plants.

EAST GERMANS SHOW MISSILE

A "frog" ground-to-ground Soviet-made missile is displayed in public for the first time today in Berlin's Soviet sector by the Communist East Germany army. The weapon was shown at the end of a parade marking the 15th anniversary of the Communist government. Among those watching from the stand were party boss Walter Ulbrecht and his wife, Lotte, and Leonid Breshnev, former Soviet president and now secretary of the Soviet Communist Party. (AP Wirephoto)

BROWN OPPOSED ON TAX SHAKEUP

Leake, Bagley Join Forces Against Equalization Board Revamping Idea

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's proposal to reorganize the tax collecting powers of the State Board of Equalization has come under fire from both the board's chairman and the state's legislative analyst.

But Paul Leake, chairman of California's major tax administration body, and A. Alan Post, legislative analyst, were widely apart on how the board should be reorganized.

Their testimony was presented Tuesday before the Assembly Committee on Government Organization.

Chairman Milton Marks, (R-San Francisco), read into the record a letter from Brown which said Brown was less interested in the details of consolidating the board's activities, so long as consolidation was accomplished.

Brown had proposed that the state's tax collecting functions, including most of the duties of the Board of Equalization, be taken over by a three-man body.

Leake, vowing "to fight hard to keep my job," attacked what he called a "jerry-built political contrivance" devised by "amateur architects of state government."

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael), agreed with Leake and said the governor was "setting up an unholy trinity" and that "it is no solution at all."

Leake said he favored the principle of consolidation but differed as to how it should be accomplished.

"I'm not attacking the governor, but I wasn't consulted on the proposed change," he added.

Under the governor's plan, there would be two elected officials—the state controller and state treasurer—and one appointed official, the director of finance, on the new tax board.

Marks directed Leake to submit to the committee a plan for reorganization and consolidation, pinpointing what economies could be effected.

Post proposed that a tax appeals board be formed with a director who would answer only to the governor.

"Put the responsibility on the governor's shoulders," Post said.

Post said he would not favor the governor's idea of a three-man tax board, nor was he in favor of consolidation under the Board of Equalization.

He proposed that there should either be a director who supervises a tax appeals board of a complete shakeup of the board itself.

Leake, highly critical of the proposed commission's power to take over the controller's function of appointing inheritance tax appraisers, said the idea was a continuance of the "appraisers' highrolling gravy train."

"Radical change in the defense of the taxpayer's money is no vice," Bagley chimed in.

U.S. Donates To Save Egyptian Temples

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has donated 12 million dollars for preservation of the 3-200-year-old temples of Abu Simbel, threatened by rising waters behind the Aswan Dam on the Nile River.

This represents about one-third the estimated cost of moving the temples. The money comes from Egyptian pounds owned by the United States.

Demos Garner Larger Lead In California

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The full effect of a stunning pre-election coup by California Democrats was revealed yesterday in official voter registration figures released by Secretary of State Frank H. Jordan, showing the Democrats signed up nearly twice as many new voters since June as did the Republicans.

The figures showed a total of 8,184,151 persons eligible to vote in the Nov. 3 general election. This is a gain of more than 1 million since June and tops the previous record of high registration of November, 1960, of 7,531,211.

The full story of the Democratic gains this year is in these figures. Registration for the June primary was 7,122,124 including 4,022,302 Democrats and 2,895,448 Republicans. Current registration of 8,184,151 includes 4,736,906 Democrats and 3,182,397 Republicans.

The Democratic registration gain of 714,604 since June amounts to 17.8 per cent. The Republican gain of 286,949 amounts to but 9.9 per cent.

The Democratic majority in the state now stands at 59.8 per cent to 40.2 per cent.

Only four counties boasted Republican majorities, Marin, Orange, Alpine and Mono.

The registration figures showed nearly two-thirds of the state's voters — 65.6 per cent — are in six counties: Los Angeles, 38.3 per cent; Alameda, 6.2; San Diego, 6.1; Orange, 5.7; San Francisco, 4.8; and Santa Clara, 4.5.

The total registration includes 223, 540 persons who declined to state and 41,308 miscellaneous registrations. These amount to 2.7 and .5 per cent of the total, respectively.

Tavern Owners Roast Beer Profiteering By Realty Men

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Beer licenses are too cheap, too easy to come by and the key to a real estate brokers' quick-profit scheme, liquor license owners declare.

Several of the men who own hard-to-get, expensive, highly regulated general liquor licenses yesterday testified before the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Governmental Organization.

At present, anyone who qualifies can get a beer license for $100, with an $80 annual renewal fee. There is no limit on the number of beer licenses that can be sold.

John Reske, a Glendale liquor license owner, told the committee that in his area many real estate brokers are buying licenses. Then they find a vacant store, rent it, put in some furniture and open up a beer parlor. After they draw a thriving business, they sell out for a big profit, Reske contended.

This, he said, is unfair to already established taverns which sell liquor as well as beer. "This trafficking in beer licenses is a gimmick for real estate brokers to make a profit," he declared.

Reske and other witnesses advocated raising the price of beer licenses and putting them under the population quota system.

Berkeleyans Back School Integration

BERKELEY (AP) — Two Berkeley board of education members won overwhelming victories Tuesday in the city's bitterly fought recall election.

With all but one of 273 precincts in, Carol Sibley led her opponent Richard Hass 23,064 to 14,789. Hass is president of the Parents Association for Neighborhood Schools, which initiated the recall move.

Dr. Sherman Maisel led retired Garfield Junior High School Principal Alfred C. Baxter 23,072 to 14,964.

Hass and Baxter formally conceded defeat at 10 p.m.

The recall move was started after the school board voted to end alleged de facto segregation in the city's three junior high schools by shifting Negro and Caucasian students to different schools.

The Berkeley City Council voted down a recall election last August but was overruled by the State District Court of Appeal.

Ruby Still Fears World's Opinion

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby believes the world still thinks he helped kill President John F. Kennedy despite the Warren Commission's report, his chief lawyer, Clayton Fowler, said yesterday.

Fowler told Ruby in the county jail that the commission found he had no part in the assassination and was not involved in any way with Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin whom Ruby shot Nov. 24.

"It appears there has been a further deterioration of his condition," the lawyer said.

Fowler said he felt Ruby "lacks the mental capacity" to understand the report's significance.

Now Tshombe's Held In Hostage

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government was reported holding Congolese Premiere Moise Tshombe a hostage today until his government calls off gendarmes surrounding the United Arab Republic's embassy in Leopoldville.

Tshombe abandoned his attempt to attend the conference of non-aligned nations Tuesday night after the conference told him he would not be admitted.

Reports from Leopoldville Tuesday said gendarmes surrounded the UAR Embassy and halted all movement in and out of the building. The reports said the action was taken to protect the embassy from mob action that was feared because of Tshombe's treatment in Cairo.

More than 20,000 residents of Paraguay's 450-year-old capital staged a well-organized welcome demonstration.

Tiki Carver Barney West In Zoning Fuss

Tiki carver Barney West, 42, was scheduled for arraignment at 1:30 a.m. today in Marin Municipal Court on two counts of violation of Sausalito ordinances in connection with his "Tiki Junction" ark and woodcarving site on railroad-lease property at the foot of Mono Street.

He is charged with occupying a building for business without obtaining a zoning or occupancy permit, and with constructing a building without a building permit.

His attorney, A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr. of Sausalito, said he would appear with West today and request a jury trial. The charges were filed Sept. 18 by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan.

West's ark, which once was the forecastle of the schooner, Shark, is on property which is right-of-way for Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. and leased to West for $15 monthly. West allegedly constructed a small addition to the ark, which he uses for night storage of his carving supplies and for smaller art works.

2 Youths Picked Up With Stolen Cycle—'Lack Sense'

Two Marin County youths were picked up on a stolen motorcycle today, but police declined to press charges until they could decide if the pair and two friends had committed a theft or just lacked a little common sense.

The case was turned over to San Rafael police after Corte Madera officers recovered the cycle, stolen Oct. 2 from Donald K. Newburn of 1855 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The youths, 16 and 18, said they and two friends found the motorcycle in Alpine Lake Sunday and spent four hours pulling it out with ropes.

Instead of calling any law enforcement agency, the four decided the motorcycle had been abandoned and was, perhaps, theirs for the taking. They walked it to one boy's home in Greenbrae, where after a day or two of work they put it back in running order.

Meanwhile, a park ranger had seen the cycle before it was removed from the lake and called the Marin County sheriff's office. Skindivers went to the bottom Monday and Tuesday, but naturally failed to find anything.

The youths told police they had called the owner, whose name they got from the registration, but became worried when he asked their names and hung up.

Later, they called Corte Madera Police Chief Frank L. Nelson to ask if there was any way they could return the machine without getting involved.

San Rafael police said today they were reluctant to ask the district attorney's office for prosecution, since the quartet apparently had no intention of depriving the rightful owner. But they also pointed out the youths had exercised very bad judgement in failing to contact any responsible agency in the first place.

They said their decision would follow further investigation.

stop of the day—Des Moines, in the center of the corn belt.

Johnson attributed to Goldwater, by quoting him, views on farm policy which he said would strike "a devastating blow to the heart of the American economy."

Tonight his first nationwide campaign telecast, a paid program taped in advance, will be aired.

Lady Bird Johnson, fresh after a day of whistlestoppingt hrough primarily agricultural regions of North Carolina and Virginia, moved into industrial sections today stressing education and the first family's Southern heritage.

A crowd of about 8,000 greeted Mrs. Johnson at the day's first stop, in Durham, S.C.

Young people in schools and colleges "are a singled out generation—the one that is expected to build a society of the highest order," said the first lady.

In Washington, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said today that Rep. William E. Miller's attacks on Americans for Democratic Action prove he is unfit for the vice presidency.

Humphrey, a founder and former vice chairman of the liberal organization, said it was "an insult to the intelligence of the "American voter" to suggest that the ADA was Communist-oriented.

"Those who peddle that kind of trash are merely proving their disqualification for public trust," said the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

At Palm Springs last night Gov. Edmund G. Brown said "Barry Goldwater makes Warren G. Harding look like a flaming liberal."

But, the governor warned 500 partisans at a $25-a-plate Democratic dinner, "we are in for a scrap."

Baptist Students Fete Anniversary Of Grad School

Students and staff of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry today celebrated Founder's Day, the 20th anniversary of the beginning of the graduate school.

During a chapel program this morning on the campus, Dale Brantley, seminary trustee, and Isom B. Hodges, founding president of the seminary, spoke to staff and students.

There now are 259 students enrolled at the seminary, including those from six foreign countries. The seminary was founded in 1944 by Hodges at Golden Gate Baptist Church in Oakland.

The seminary now is on 126 acres on Strawberry Point, where construction was completed in 1959. It is one of six seminaries operated by the Southern Baptist Convention.

San Rafael High P-TA Will Sell Calendars

Members of the San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Assn. will sell high school calendars at tonight's "back to school night" from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the school.

The Independent-Journal reported in error Monday that the P-TA members would "present" copies of the calendar to parents attending the event.

Dog Tangles 101 Traffic; Driver Hurt

A dog crossing Highway 101 near Novato caused squealing of brakes and swerving cars at 9 a.m. yesterday, ending with one car in a drainage ditch and the driver slightly injured.

Treated at San Rafael General Hospital for a cut over the eye was William T. Phillips, 23, of 1108C Los Gamos Road, Santa Venetia.

Phillips said he was northbound where highway construction is under way north of the San Jose Avenue overpass when he saw the dog start to cross the highway. Cars coming south started to slow down, and a pickup truck skidded sideways across the four-foot-wide center area into the northbound lanes.

Phillips pulled to the right to avoid the truck and his car ran into the drainage ditch.

A California Highway Patrolman captured the dog and turned it over to the Marin County Humane Society.

dinner at the St. Francis Hotel.

After the dinner Friday, Goldwater will leave on a motorcade to Fisherman's Wharf, where he will be a guest of the Columbus Day festival.

He is scheduled to leave for Spokane Saturday.

Meanwhile, Goldwater campaign headquarters at Lafayette reported that vandals caused some $4,000 in damage.

At Asbury Park, today Goldwater verbally battled heckling that all but drowned out a speech as a crowd of teen-agers in the convention hall gallery kept chanting "LBJ" while he spoke.

The Republican presidential candidate tried to proceed with his remarks — and he was interrupted frequently by loud cheers from his own supporters —but the heckling was irritating enough for him to remark about it.

At one point, the chant erupted when he was accusing the State Department of opposing a Senate resolution to condemn the Soviet Union for persecution of Jews. When the heckling died down, Goldwater commented: "It is real disturbing to find there are young people who don't want to censure the Russians for what they are doing to the Jewish people."

Mrs. Goldwater combined politics and nostalgia today on her first 1964 solo campaign trip for her husband. She was to stop at Muncie, Ind., where she grew up and married Goldwater.

Muncie planned to welcome her home with a "Peggy Goldwater Day" celebration.

At Augusta, Ga. Rep. William E. Miller said today that he and Goldwater favored giving assistance to Cubans in exile so that they could take back the island from the Castro regime.

The Republican vice presidential nominee took his stand in addressing a crowd of about 4,000 people gathered outside the Confederate monument in the heart of downtown Augusta.

He headed immediately for Florida where he is to speak at a rally tonight attended by veterans of the unsuccessful invasion of Cuba at the Bay of Pigs in 1961.

Miller said yesterday at Hickory, N.C. he had made no secret of the fact that one of his law partners also is a $13,742-a-year member of his congerssional staff.

"He's done a good job. He's earned his money and I'd do it again," Miller said of John H. Stenger of Buffalo, N.Y.

Miller, campaigning in the South, said his appointment of Stenger nearly a year ago was carried in several newspapers.

Novato Collision Hurts Teen-Ager

A 16-year-old Novato girl suffered back injuries in a two-car collision yesterday at 1:05 p.m. in front of 738 Olive Avenue, Novato.

Tamara Denise Hagan of 1125 Court Street was driving east on Olive Avenue when her car was struck from behind by one driven by Helen Coontz, 45, of 683 Olive Avenue, Novato, police reported.

Miss Hagan was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, with contusions of the back.

Police cited both drivers — Miss Coontz for following too closely, and Miss Hagan for not having a valid driver's license.

Corte Madera Slope Policy Tops Agenda

The Corte Madera Planning Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Town Hall with the city's proposed slope control policy ordinance up for discussion.

The commission will also review the board of design action on the town's proposed Public Safety Building and plans presented by J&B Ford Co. The sign section of the town zoning ordinance is scheduled for discussion.

Deposit Trial In Second Day

Trial of two former executives of Seabreeze Construction Co. of San Rafael went into its second day today before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., with state's testimony by the firm's president, scheduled to start this afternoon.

Charged with grand theft in the alleged pocketing of deposits for new homes in the Loma Verde tract near Novato are Alfred M. Berger, executive vice president and secretary for Seabreeze, and John L. Richardson, sales representative, both of San Diego.

Bailin, of 1030 Calle Paseo in the tract, also is charged with grand theft, but won a severance in trial. His trial is scheduled for setting Oct. 16.

OBITUARY

Donna Snow Found Dead In Bathtub

Mrs. Donna L. Snow, 44, of 360 Marin Avenue, Mill Valley, died early yesterday, apparently the victim of accidental drowning in her bath tub.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said Mrs. Snow apparently took sleeping pills before climbing into the bath. She had been suffering from severe head-aches resulting from an auto accident five and-one-half years ago.

Her husband, Robert G. Snow, who works nights at San Francisco television station KRON-TV, said she called him at 4:30 a.m. yesterday and said that one of her headaches was keeping her awake. He told her to see if sleeping pills would help her to rest.

When he arrived home just after 8 a.m. Snow found her submerged beneath the water in the bath tub.

Bradley said that it will be three weeks before laboratory tests can show whether sleeping pills were taken and if so, the extent of the dose. He said she had been treated by several doctors following a whiplash and head injury received in an auto accident on Shoreline Drive in Mill Valley, and had been troubled by sleeplessness.

Mrs. Snow was a member of Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley, and the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home, Terra Linda.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Snow is survived by a 7-year-old daughter, Susan; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Limehouse of Charleston, S.C., and a sister, Mrs. Norine Hodges, also of Charlesotn.

Funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley, directed by Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Burial will be in Charleston.

Board Picks School Site In Fairfax

Fairfax School District trustees madee a primary choice last night on the site for the district's proposed seventh and eighth grade school.

The site is 20.5 acres at Oak Manor Drive and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, which Supt. Homer Sisk said was adequate for the proposed school as well as a projected elementary school five years from now.

Sisk said the site is also fairly near the center of projected growth in Fairfax.

Board chairman Laurence Herman appointed a committee of himself, Sisk, trustee Robert Luppe and Deer Park School Parent-Teacher Assn. president Dan Goodman to draft a letter to Fairfax voters asking them to authorize a half million dollar bond issue and half million dollar state loan for the district's building program for the next four years. The matter will be voted on Nov. 3.

The board also authorized architect Eugene Crawford to draw up specifications for relocatable classrooms, preparatory to the board's taking bids for construction of the "portable" classrooms.

FLOOD

of the creek that flooded the college area in 1962 and 1955.

Senator Kuchel and Congressman Clausen, who is seeking reelection to Congress from the First District, expressed hope they can get money appropriated in the next session of Congress to start the flood control project.

The project calls for building dirt levees from Greenbrae to Ross city limits, and concreting the upper creek from Ross to Fairfax.

Both the legislators and the Army engineers said that a two-stage construction of the project, with less use of concrete from the college upstream, is feasible.

Residents along Corte Madera Creek have protested the use of solid concrete through their communities and have urged preservation of some of the natural creek area. Ernest N. Kettenhofen of San Anselmo proposed the two-stage construction idea to preserve some of the creek's natural terrain.

Kuchel and Clausen left Marin shortly before noon for Santa Rosa for the opening of Clausen's campaign headquarters there.

Planner Named For Sausalito

George C. Hoffman, 44, of 247 Woodward Avenue, Sausalito, was appointed to the Sausalito Planning Commission by the city council last night, filling the term of Robert Anthony, who moved from the city.

Hoffman, whose term will run until 1967, is a part-time builder and part-time hardware store employee.

A native of Couer d'Alene, Idaho, Hoffman has lived in Marin 15 years.

Slain Girl, 14, 'Was Drinking'

CONCORD (AP) — Laboratory tests have disclosed that 14-year-old Judy Barnes apparently had been drinking Sept. 21 before she was strangled to death.

The high school sophomore's body was found in a downtown Concord vacant lot on Sept. 22. Tests showed a blood alcohol reading of .11 per cent, the Contra Costa County Coroner's office said yesterday. Minimum reading for a drunk driver is .15.

Jack L. Bergh, 23, a sailor of Deer River, Minn., has been charged with murder in the girl's death. Bergh is scheduled to appear in Concord Municipal Court on Oct. 14 for preliminary hearing on the charges.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Demos Collecting Record In Dollars

The countywide Dollars-for-Democrats drive this year is turning into a record-smasher, co-chairman Hadden W. Roth reported today.

"We have more than $6,500 already banked and about $3,500 still to be turned in," said Roth. "The $10,000 collected is more than double any previous collection."

LUDY MEETING

County Supervisor George H. Ludy will be at Roma's Store in Forest Knolls tomorrow at 6 p.m. at a "meet your supervisor night." K. W. Kenny Burt, campaign chairman for the Lagunitas-Forest Knolls area, arranged the get-together.

PIERRE AIDES

Robert D. Carrow, Marin chairman for Pierre Salinger, announced the following area chairmen for the Salinger for Senator campaign:

Robert Harmon, Belvedere; Mel Riccardi, Greenbrae; Mrs. Jay Hutchinson and Albert Gately, Fairfax; Peter Krug, Larkspur-Corte Madera; James Quiett and Dr. William Bradley Read, Marin City; Ralph Sommer and Michael Wornum, Mill Valley; Harley McAskill, Novato; Cole Jackman and Edwin McCarthy, San Anselmo; Thomas Boyd and James Fletcher, San Rafael; Gordon W. Strawbridge, Tiburon, and Hurford Sharon, West Marin.

PROP. 14

"The moral and legal aspects of Proposition 14" will be discussed at a public meeting at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Novato on Oct. 30.

George Tocalino, publicity chairman, announced the meeting will be held in the social hall of the church, starting at 8 p.m. Talks by panel members will be followed by open discussion.

Our Lady of Loretto Church and the First Presbyterian Church of Novato are jointly sponsoring the event. Invitations to participate have been extended to all churches in the Novato area, Tocalino said.

Hilda's Victims Head For Home Over Warnings

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Thousands of families were back to pick up the pieces of their hurricane-shattered homes in coastal Louisiana today and more going despite warnings to wait.

They didn't care about lack of electricity, water, sewage, telephones or other conveniences.

Some slipped in by back roads. Some went by boat. Others cut across sugar cane fields flattened by Hurricane Hilda last week.

Fishermen, businessmen, housewives, oil field workers, trappers and others wanted to get to the job of restoring their possessions to some semblance of what they were before the storm's onslaught.

Crackdown On Bolinas Sewer Setup Likely

Clam diggers probably will win out over coliform organisms in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

Discharge of raw sewage into the Bolinas Lagoon, channel or bay waters will be banned, if the San Francisco Bay Area Regional Water Pollution Control Board acts as expected at its meeting Oct. 15 in Oakland. The agency this week distributed copies of a draft resolution curbing pollution of Marin coastal waters.

If adopted, the ruling will rigidly limit the number of coliform organisms (bacteria) and substances harmful to shellfish, marine life or waterfowl, that any sewage system can dump into the coastal waters.

During hearings last summer, state and Marin County health authorities warned they would ban the popular sport of clam digging at Bolinas unless pollution was ended.

Bolinas Public Utility District directors protested the cost, but have hired an engineer to prepare plans.

Also on the agenda for the Oct. 15 meeting is a review of the pollution control agency's running disagreement with the Novato Sanitary District over use of Novato Creek for effluent.

In 1905, a mine superintendent in South Africa noticed a glimmer in the wall of a mine and, after a few moments of digging, picked out a one-pound six-ounce giant, the Cullinan. The gem is set in the British Royal Scepter.

Abandoned Autos To Face Cleanup Action By County

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday called for an aggressive program to remove abandoned cars from county rights of way.

Supervisors agreed they did not want junk heaps littering county roads even though the county may have to pay removal costs.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said it would cost the county from $25 to $30 for each car towed away.

There are not "a heck of a lot of cars involved," Frost said, "about a dozen or two dozen a year."

If the owner is located, he would have to pay the towing costs, but County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said it's almost impossible to find the owner of an abandoned car.

Supervisors asked for action after receiving a letter from Harry Falter of 46 Labrea Way, Santa Venetia, about abandoned cars in his area.

"There is an area of San Pedro Road near Littleman Market in Santa Venetia that is being considered as a dumping ground for unwanted cars," Falter wrote. "One was abandoned several weeks ago and another has been abandoned within the past few days."

This dumping of cars "contributes to a junk yard atmosphere and will tend to depreciate property values," Falter wrote.

TOUGH TO STOP — Fireman cannot get too close to this hot fire in tires and junk at Bay Auto Wreckers even with the protection of a high-pressure hose. Thirty-eight men battled the junk yard fire yesterday evening. A new fire broke out early today in the same yard. (Independent-Journal photo)

Sausalito Junk Yard Blaze Creates Huge Smoke Cloud

Hundreds of spectators turned out and commuter traffic on Highway 101 was tied up last evening as a burning pile of junk near Sausalito sent a spectacular cloud of black smoke down the channel of Richardson Bay.

It took 38 firemen in seven trucks to put out the blaze, which broke out at Bay Auto Wreckers near the south end of the Richardson Bay Bridge at 5:28 p.m. Two Marin County units returned at 1:50 a.m. today when another blaze broke out in an adjacent pile of tires, car bodies and car seats.

The first fire, which was believed caused by a cutting torch, was fought by five county units, led by Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom, assisted by two trucks and 21 men from the Tamalpais Fire Department and another six volunteers from Sausalito.

Two county firemen stood by after today's fire to make sure the blaze did not break out again.

The junk yard's owner, Adam Jackson of San Francisco, had already been cited by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Board to appear at a San Francisco hearing tomorrow on charges of having inadequate fire equipment and of allowing fires to continue once they had started.

Firemen have answered more than two dozen calls to the yard in the past few years, but Jackson was cited on the basis of four blazes this year.

Health Officials List Marin Diseases

Marin County Health officials reported 37 cases of communicable disease in the county for the week ending last Saturday.

San Rafael reported 17 of the cases, 10 streptococcus infections, four measles and three mumps cases. Six strep infections were reported in San Anselmo; Novato reported five; Marin City, two; unincorporated areas, two; Mill Valley, Belvedere-Tiburon, Corte Madera and Fairfax, one each. Mill Valley reported one case of measles.

Glenwood Rest Home Opposed

Members of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. agreed last night to oppose the request of a Glenwood man for a permit for a small rest home at 2 Lockwood Drive.

They said they would circulate petitions, and would appear at the San Rafael Planning Commission's Oct. 13 meeting, when Robert B. Stock's application will be on the agenda.

The association contends the four-bed home, already in operation, violates deed restrictions in the area.

Lester H. Hicks of 56 Maplewood Drive was appointed a director of the association to replace Jasper E. Winnie, who has moved to San Anselmo.

The group donated $20 to the Glenwood Parent-Teacher Assn. to aid the Glenwood School Halloween party.

Annual social function of the association will be a dinner dance Nov. 6 at Peacock Gap Country Club.

New directors will be elected at the group's next meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 3 at the Church of the Redeemer.

Church Is Urged To Aid Migrants

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A symposium on poverty yesterday was told that church-sponsored projects can help migrant workers raise their social and economic level in society.

About 2,500 women participated in the symposium at the 10th National Assembly of United Church Women of the National Council of Churches.

The Rev. Wayne C. Hartmire Jr., director of the California Migrant Miinstry of the NCC, said "community development" among colonies of migrant workers by church workers can help the poor "experience their God-given worth as they solve their own problems in organizations of their own."

Redwood High To Hold Parent Event Tonight

Redwood High School will hold a Back to School Night for parents from 7:30 to 10 p.m. today at the school. Parents will receive course cards for their children and will follow through a day of classes, meeting teachers along the way.

Parents will be able to spend 10 minutes in each class. The session will start with a short program in the school's gymnasium.

U.S. Employees 'Questionable'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Milward L. Simpson (R-Wyo.) charged yesterday that the State Department employs "at least 15 top-level" persons who were among 250 listed by the late Scott McLeod, State Department security officer during the Eisenhower administration, as having records about which there were "serious questions."

Simpson called on the State Department to investigate and re-evaluate the records of the 15 to determine whether they represent security risks. He did not name any of the 15 persons.

The State Department said it would have no comment.

Novato Votes Ordinance On Checking Fee

In a short meeting at 6:40 p.m. yesterday, the Novato City Council unanimously adopted ordinances for plan checking fees for subdivisions.

The council introduced the ordinances at its regular meeting last week, and held the adjourned meeting so they would go into effect sooner.

The council also authorized Mayor Robert D. Carrow to represent the city before the county board of supervisors when it considers a lot split ordinance.

The Novato Council has asked the county to raise the zoning standards of North Marin to those of the City of Novato. It has also offered to do the zoning and planning work for the county in the area.

Farmers May Get Braceros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mexican farm workers will be imported to California under an existing immigration law if insufficient American workers are available, according to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz.

Wirtz said at a San Francisco news conference yesterday that federal authorities first will do "everything possible" to find American workers.

California farmers have relied heavily on Mexican laborers, commonly called braceros, under a program to end December 31.

The labor secretary said Mexican workers could be brought in temporarily under the McCarran-Walter Act, after the present program expires.

Engineer Assails Plan To Freeze Bay Filling

E. Elmore Hutchison of San Rafael, consulting civil engineer who developed Belvedere lagoon and other tideland areas, yesterday assailed the proposed moratorium on bay fill.

Speaking before the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission, Hutchison said such a moratorium would be a denial of private property rights. He suggested that some public agency should take over the tax bill during such a moratorium and contribute 6 per cent a year to the owner as interest on his investment.

Hutchison, president of Sausalito Properties, Inc., argued that proponents of the moratorium cite the beauties of open water and tidal mud. He wondered if he could prevent use of hillsides through his appreciation of the beauties of open hills.

He further said that moratorium proponents always point to the maximum development that would be possible in the bay. Much of this will not be developed because of expense, he said.

By dredging portions of the bay and use of the spoil for fill, the bay could be made more navigable in many areas, he said.

The Sausalito Properties' proposed developments on Richardson Bay were blocked by a similar moratorium by the Marin board of supervisors. Both orders have been appealed.

Anti-Prop. 14 Party Planned

Five Mill Valley couples will hold a party Saturday on Jean Varda's ferry boat, Vallejo, at Gate Five, Marinship in Sausalito, to raise money for the campaign against Proposition 14 in the Nov. 3 election.

Hours will be from 4 to 7 p.m. Admission will be charged. The Sausalito artist's collages will be on display and one will be auctioned.

The party-givers are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Westerbeke, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Swedenborg, Dr. and Mrs. Kurt Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goldblatt, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dreyfus.

Jury Votes Conviction For Drunken Driving

A Marin Municipal Court jury yesterday found James Bernard Ragan, 48, Redwood City, guilty of drunken driving in San Rafael last April 12.

He was sentenced to five days in Marin County Jail and fined $276. Ragan was arrested by San Rafael police.

Tam Students In Fall Art Exhibit

Art in action will be demonstrated at the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival this week end by about 40 Tamalpais High School students.

Students plan to demonstrate the potter's wheel, do leather carving, tooling and assembly, and demonstrate printing. Henri Boussy, handling graphics and coordinating the program, said there will probably be morning, afternoon and evening sessions Saturday and perhaps two sessions Sunday. It is the second year the high school students have participated in art in action at the festival at Old Mill Park.

County Prepares To Curb Lot Split

Marin County supervisors yesterday directed the county counsel to prepare an ordinance to control all lot splits and present it within two weeks.

The county, unlike most of its cities, has no ordinance governing subdivisions of fewer than four lots.

There have been repeated requests to supervisors, planning commission and planning department for lot split control. Action was galvanized yesterday by an appeal by Robert Ruan of Novato, who pointed out anew the problems that arise when an unincorporated area is under different regulations than adjoining city property.

Ryan said one side of McClay Road is a city street and the other side unincorporated without curbs, gutters or drains. He said that when rains come, the runoff will flow across the street to city property.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said McClay Road is an example of what's happening throughout Marin.

Supervisors directed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to prepare an overall ordinance which would include specific rules for urban areas.

The board received an application for excavation of land in the north end of Salt Works Canal in Richardson Bay off Strawberry Point, but continued the request for 60 days after learning there is litigation pending over the project.

Bala and Strandgaard, civil engineers of Corte Madera, applied for the permit on behalf of Mrs. H. A. Beckwith. Attorney Stephen H. Kaufman reported the Strawberry Recreation District opposed granting of the permit until the litigation is completed.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Passed a resolution commending the Marin County Fire Department and other fire prevention agencies of the county for their record of effectiveness and their aid to neighboring counties.

2. Set for Nov. 9 at 1:30 p.m. hearing on an appeal by former Sheriff's Deputy George Johnsen on the decision of the county personnel commission which upheld his dismissal.

3. Authorized hiring a personnel analyst in the personnel department at a starting salary of $700 per month instead of the $634 established in the salary ordinance, at the request of Robert D. Elliott, personnel director.

4. Appointed Dr. Marilyn F. Hicks and Dr. Patricia Hallinan as assistant county heatlh officers; Durel Patton as intermediate typist cleark with the health department; Gail Andrews as social worker, Eda Rapp, intermediate typist clerk, and Edith Weldon as social worker, all in public social services department, and Irene K. Maxey as intermediate typist clerk, assessor's office.

5. Approved promotion of Robert Norwood to civil engineer II, department of public works; R. T. Nelson and Paul Elloupoules to accountant-auditor II, both in auditor-controller's office.

6. Approved expansion of eligibility of employees to enroll in the Kaiser Health Plan so that any county employee may join the plan effective Dec. 1.

7. Set for Oct. 20 hearing on reassessment of property damaged or destroyed by the tidal wave following the Alaskan earthquake in March. Nine applications for reassessment were filed with the county assessor's office by businesses, boat harbors and individual boat owners.

8. Approved plans and recommendations for repairs to the lift station in Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District No. 2 and called for bids to be opened Oct. 27.

9. Adopted an ordinance creating a no-parking zone on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Lim Avenue and Maple Street, Kentfield.

10. Approved soils investigation at the lower of the two most actives slides on White's Hill by Lee and Praszker at a cost not to exceed $3,788, and soils investigation of a slide on Ocean Parkway, Bolinas, by Harding Assoc. at a cost not to exceed $5,500.

11. Approved use of the Civic Center for an exhibition of historical political art from the California Historical Society under sponsorship of the Marin Museum Assn. starting Saturday.

12. Approved appointment of William Donald Fraser of 283 East Strawberry Drive, Mill Valley to the Strawberry Recreation District board, to fill the unexpired term of L. J. Smith who recently moved from the district.

13. Supported passage of Proposition 7 on the Nov. 4 ballot, which will allow state and local retirement funds to purchase common or preferred stock. County Treasurer Stanley J. Fontez reported that passage of the proposition would reduce costs of the retirement system to both employees and taxpayers.

14. Authorized signing a joint powers agreement with San Rafael Elementary School District and the county superintendent of schools' office for construction and operation of classrooms for the hard of hearing on existing school sites.

15. Granted a six-month leave without pay for Mrs. Patricia Laszewski of the department of public social services.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who is on vacation, was absent.

Hospital Officials Discuss Strategy For Lawsuits

Directors of the Marin Hospital District spent an hour and 35 minutes in closed session last night discussing the next steps in the hearing and suits over Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman.

There was no announcement after the meeting of any action taken, but included in the meeting along with the district's attorney, Harold F. Riede, was James E. Ludlam, attorney for the California Hospital Assn.

Chief of staff Dr. T. Scott Strathairn and former chief of staff Dr. Dallas L. Wagner also attended, along with Administrator William W. Turner and Asst. Administrator Robert Mathews.

The board has been ordered by the Marin County Superior Court to continue a hearing on Ascherman's right to use the hospital's facilities as a surgeon, although the hearing has been stymied because physicians have refused to testify for fear of slander suits, and cannot be subpoenaed by the board.

Charity Fair Winners Named

Two Marin County service organizations have won cash prizes of $100 each for their booths at the recent Northgate Charity Fair.

The Northgate Shopping Center Merchants Assn. gave the prize to the Social Service Auxiliary of Marin for producing the fair's best sales results with a "county fair" booth. More than 2,000 ballots were cast by shoppers to select the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn. "Shiners Convention" shoeshine booth as the best decorated.

Twelve organizations participated in the fair, raising nearly $1,400 for their projects and charities, according to Richard Less, president of the Northgate merchants group.

Poison Gas Use Set In War II

WASHINGTON (AP)—David Lilienthal says the United States was ready to use poison gas against the Japanese late in World War II, but dropped the idea because the British feared it might trigger a similar attack on England by the Germans.

Lillienthal, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said the late Gen. George C. Marshall, wartime U.S. Army chief of staff, reported this to him and several other atomic officials in June, 1947.

The report came in a new book, "The Journals of David E. Lillienthal: The Atomic Energy Years 1945-50" (Harper and Row).

Two Boys Arrested

Two Oakland boys, both 16, were placed in Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday afternoon after they were arrested by Berkeley police and admitted having a Volkswagen from 66 Lower Crescent Avenue, Sausalito. The vehicle, taken between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. yesterday, was being leased by Beverly Anderson of 66 Lower Crescent.

McCabe Flays Clausen Votes

George E. McCabe of Santa Rosa, Democratic candidate for Congress, labeled incumbent Don H. Clausen a "Goldwater Republican" last night at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

McCabe shared the speaker's platform with Anthony J. Celebrezze, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare.

McCabe criticized Clausen for voting against measures as war on poverty, aid to distressed areas, aid to higher education, the "already riddled foreign aid bill," and the urban transit bill "despite pleas by the Marin County Board of Supervisors for its approval."

He said Clausen voted for the civil rights bill, "but reluctantly."

"I am for, just as Clem Miller was for, everything my opponent is against," said McCabe. "I will support the progressive policies of the Johnson Administration."

The Sonoma State College administrator said he referred to his opponent as a "Goldwater Republican" because "he established that record and he's going to have to live with it."

The $50 per plate dinner was sponsored by the Marin Committee to Elect President Johnson and the George McCabe for Congress Committee.

Cuban Visitor

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos will stop here for a visit on his way home from the current nonaligned nations conference in Cairo, informed sources said today.

Celebrezze Tells Marin Demos Barry 'Echo Of Past'

Anthony J. Celebrezze, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, urged Marin voters last night to reject Berry Goldwater, "an echo of the past," and listen to Lyndon B. Johnson, "the voice of the future."

He also asked the First Congressional District to send George E. McCabe to Congress.

Celebrezze made his impassioned plea at a $50 a plate dinner before a rapt crowd of 250 at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

The secretary said the choice on Nov. 3 is between moving forward or backward, "between compassion or, from here on in, every man for himself and disease and famine can play the hindmost."

Celebrezze said Senator Goldwater had opposed almost every major bill backed by the Kennedy and Johnson Administrations—income tax cut, nuclear test ban treaty, anti-poverty program, "and above all he voted against the civil rights bill."

"The war on poverty he (Goldwater) called a cruel hoax . . . Visit the area where I had to live as a boy," Celebreeze cried. "Visit the slums and the poverty stricken areas . . .

"He voted against an increase of $5 a month in payments to the blind, aged and disabled—and this from a man who claims he has a heart!"

While the United States and the Soviet Union were both testing nuclear weapons, radioactivity created a serious hazard to the nation's health, Celebrezze declared.

"I spent many sleepless nights worrying about the fallout. Our milk was becoming contaminated. Yet he (Goldwater) voted against the test ban treaty!"

Celebrezze said Johnson's program offers "a nation free from want, free from hate, a nation of peace and justice, freedom and abundance."

Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. was master of ceremonies, and Rev. Wesley C. Baker delivered the invocation.

Roger Kent and Elizabeth Gatov headed the list of prominent Democrats at the head table.

Candidates introduced congressional candidate McCabe; state senate candidate Vera Schultz; Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker; Thomas T. Storer, running for supervisor, and Hadden W. Roth, running for Marin General Hospital board.

Two Academy Seniors Get Commendations

Two seniors at San Rafael Military Academy received formal letters of commendation for their performance in the national merit scholarship test given last spring.

The seniors are Jack Koschalk, ward of Arthur A. Satterlee of Brighton, Colo., and Stephen Lind, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Lind of Olympia, Wash. They were among 38,000 students commended in 17,000 schools where the scholarship test was administered.

County Working Toward Rehabilitation Program

Averaging incomes of Marin County citizens shouldn't be allowed to disguise the impoverishment of some Marin families, County Supervisor Peter H. Behr said yesterday.

If the average annual income of 10 families is $9,500, there still may be three of them subsisting on annual incomes of only $3,000, he noted.

His statements were made during discussion of county participation in programs under the federal Economic Opportunities Act for which the government can authorize payment of 90 per cent of the cost during the initial two years of the programs.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker criticized "shallow thinking" on the part of those who believe that because the average annual income in Marin is more than $10,000, there is no need for federal assistance in improving the situation of impoverished residents.

The board discussed formation of a five-member community action committee to recommend programs to stimulate creation of vocational, employment, job training, health, rehabilitation, special remedial and other noncurricular educational assistance programs to benefit low-income individuals and families.

Wyman Hicks, executive secretary of the county's human rights commission, urged that if proposals were made for Marin City, they should originate in the Marin City community.

"The intent of this act is that a proposal for a community action program shall genuinely originate from within the particular local community concerned," he said.

Supervisor Leydecker suggested that impoverished families were found not only in Marin City but elsewhere in the county, especially among the elderly in San Rafael.

"We shouldn't overlook the possibility of getting an anlysis of the whole county," he declared.

Behr countered, "I agree with your philosophy, but I think our first step should be taken in Marin City."

Discussion was continued to the board's meeting of next Tuesday after the supervisors agreed to advance to Nov. 1 the hiring date for the county's director of community relations, who will coordinate programs under the Economic Opportunities Act if the county participates in it.

HALF CENTURY TOGETHER — Mr. and Mrs. Byron A. Kimball display card received for their golden wedding today in Larkspur. Mrs. Kimball said her good cooking was responsible for the long and happy marriage.

IT WAS THE COOKING

Pair Celebrate 50 Years Of Marriage

"It was my good cooking," Mrs. Byron A. Kimball explained as she and her husband prepared to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today in Larkspur.

The cooking was the reason the marriage has lasted so long and so well, she claimed.

Her husband was not so sure. "That's why I've stayed so thin," he chuckled.

The Kimballs live at 965 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, and are newcomers to Marin, having come from Utah in April. They had lived about seven years in Salt Lake City, and before lived on a ranch in eastern Utah.

It was definitely the cooking that brought the two together. Kimball said, "I was working for wages and stayed at a boarding house in Burnham, Utah, where we were both born. My wife, Alta, was the cook there."

Mrs. Kimball is proud of her cooking professionally, noting she spent 10 years cooking in a Later-day Saints hospital near her home.

The Kimballs have four children, 11 grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren. They are now living with one of their children, Dr. B. D. Kimball.

Two of the other three children came from Idaho and Los Angeles with their families for a reunion in Marin today.

The Kimballs have been active in the Latter-day Saints church. Kimball notes that he is a grandson of Heber C. Kimball, first councillor to Brigham Young when the Mormon colony was established in Utah.

Sausalito Council Takes No Proposition 14 Stand

Though all members expressed their personal opposition to Proposition 14, the Sausalito City Council last night did not muster a majority on a formel resolution against it.

The resolution, introduced by Councilman Melvin S. Wax last month, received only two votes last night. Mayor Jan Paul Dyk and Councilmen Carl W. Gabrielson and Earl F. Dunphy abstained. Wax and Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin voted for the resolution.

Dyk explained that he did not believe the council should take the position of telling citizens how to vote on a state issue.

But Wax argued that it was a city issue, because the proposed constitutional amendment, giving property owners absolute discretion in selling or renting property, would make it impossible for the city to pass laws against discrimination in housing.

Before the discussion started, a petition bearing 87 signatures and several letters, all in favor of Wax's resolution, were introduced. The letters were not read.

There was also a National Broadcasting Co. camera and crew on hand to record the proceedings, but Dyk, Gabrielson and Dunphy stuck by their resolve to keep the city out of the Proposition 14 controversy.

"I feel that I was elected to a non-partisan, non-political office," Dyk said, "and this would be improper."

Several in the audience of about 50, spoke in favor of Wax's resolution. They were Alexander Imlay, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman, Steve and Charlotte Osborn, Martin Rosen, and Mrs. Thomas E. Welch, president of the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin.

No one spoke in favor of the proposition or against Wax's resolution.

After the roll call with the three councilmen abstaining, a voice from the crowd dubbed the councilmen "moral cowards."

Emergency Water Is Turned Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall announced yesterday the termination, insofar as it applies to the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, of the emergency 10 per cent cut in use of Colorado River water.

Udall ordered the 10 per cent cut into effect in May as a result of two low-water years in the Colorado River basin. It was applied to all water users in the lower basin.

A spokesman said the action regarding the Metropolitan Water District means that it can count on using 67,190 acre-feet of water involved in the original 10 per cent cutback effective for the last seven months of 1964.

The action was based on the necessity of serving nearly nine million persons whose needs are met through Colorado River water supplied through the district facilities, the spokesman said.

The district was found to have an efficient distribution system, with no evidence of wasteful practices, he added.

General Plan Of San Rafael Gets Push To Council

Formal Commission Vote On Resolution Week Away

The San Rafael General Plan will go to the city council with planning commission recommendation for its adoption and immediate implementation.

Planning commissioners so indicated last night after their second public hearing on the plan, during which it was praised by representatives of the Terra Linda annexation.

William E. Spangle of Redwood City, who was associated with Daniel P. Coleman in preparing the plan, outlined it for the second hearing. He had only a slightly larger audience than Coleman did at the first hearing last month—20 people outside the city's official family (the first hearing drew 12).

Three Terra Lindans among the 20 took occasion to praise in particular the slope policy, cluster housing proposal, and low density residential features of the plan.

The commission postponed formal vote to await presentation of a resolution next Tuesday night. However, its feeling was shown by the fact that City Planner George H. Rodgers was instructed to include in the resolution the language of a motion by Commissioner Pat Hetherton, which recommended "immediate steps be taken to implement paragraph 507" of the plan.

That paragraph calls for preparation of a planning program setting forth specific next steps to be taken. These would include delineation of the roles and responsibilities of city planner, planning commission, council and other city officials in rela- Presumably Coleman and Spangle would be engaged to prepare the program.

Terra Linda was well represented on both sides of the railing as V. Judson Klein, appointed to the commission Monday night by the city council, attended his first meeting as commissioner, joining his neighbor, John A. Miskimen, as the second member from north of the hill.

One addition to the plan was suggested by Willis Evans of the State Department of Fish and Game and accepted for inclusion. Evans suggested that a walkway to provide access to Las Gallinas Creek be provided immediately southeast of the Marin Civic Center.

Spangle, in his presentation, stressed that both downtown San Rafael and the Northgate Center had been treated as focal points of circulation systems in the plan's design.

He recommended that San Rafael attempt to induce a college to locate on a site directly north of St. Vincent's School for Boys. "We regard securing a college as something of great importance to San Rafael," he declared.

Spangle, in his presentation, and Coleman, in response to questions, stressed that hundreds of acres of open area could be retained by applying a slope policy plus cluster housing to San Rafael's hillsides.

Aquatic parks which are a feature of the plan would serve many people from outside San Rafael, and acquiring the water areas from private owners should be "in substantial measure a responsibility of the county or state," Spangle said.

Robert F. Loberg of 382 Devon Court, one of the Terra Linda spokesmen, emphasized the hope that if the plan is adopted, the city "will try to stick to it." Hetherton's motion for immediate implementation indicated such intention.

Jack Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, asked Spangle for some idea as to the time when "the surrounding area could run away from" downtown San Rafael for lack of downtown planning.

Spangle said he could not forecast that, but "the sooner corrections are made downtown, the better . . . Actually the improvements should have been started years ago."

Coleman, however, felt that extensions of Second and Third streets will solve major traffic headaches downtown and double-decking two parking lots, now under way, will provide relief from the parking squeeze. He pointed out that most of San Rafael's newest buildings are bank or office buildings, indicating a gradual change in downtown character away from strictly retail and service establishments, and confidence of the financial community in the city's future.

If the east-west freeway is located via First Street and the Miracle Mile, as the City of San Rafael and the San Rafael and San Anselmo Chambers of Commerce have urged, said Coleman, "This will truly and forever be the crossroads of Marin County."

Council Due Slope Policy In Larkspur

The Larkspur City Council tonight is scheduled to take action on a major change in the zoning ordinance, establishing what is in effect a slope policy, and to move on a new subdivision ordinance.

But the main interest, according to the letters received by the city, is over the appeal hearing on an application for a use permit for a billiard parlor, turned down by the planning commission.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the city hall.

The council also will be confronted with a letter from the League of Women Voters asking for the council to take a stand against Proposition 14, the constitutional amendment to nullify the Rumford Fair Housing Act.

Further discussion is planned on the possible development of the county dump as a city park, and how much more filling of the area should be allowed.

The billard parlor has been proposed by Barbara Hanson for 484 Magnolia Avenue. At the time of the planning commission hearing, there was no public opposition, but the permit was denied because it might become a police problem.

Columbus Day Talk

A Columbus Day address by Supreme Knight John W. McDevitt of the Knights of Columbus will be broadcast over radio KTIM next Monday at 6 p.m. The leader of the million-member society will speak on "Christopher Columbus and the Eternal Challenge of Discovery."

INVENTION 'SHOWS' HEARTBEAT

Former Sir Francis Drake High physiology teacher Norman Goldstein Jr. shows Marin County Heart Assn. director A. L. Nieri and president Marjorie Belknap how elementary and high school classroom teachers will use his invention, the "IMP scope" to teach about circulation and blood pressure. The heart group plans to loan an IMP scope to area schools, after teacher and experiment manuals are perfected.

Supervisors Vote Anti-Bias Policy

The Marin County Board of Supervisors passed a resolution yesterday against discriminatory employment practices by contractors working on county jobs.

The action came a little belatedly after representatives of several organizations praised the board for its stand.

After the compliments were extended, Supervisor Peter H. Behr said, "I don't believe we've voted on this yet." A check of the records proved he was right.

Supervisors then quickly voted 4-0 to establish the policy. Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who is vacationing, was absent.

The resolution provided that a contractor shall not knowingly fail to hire anyone on the basis of race, national origin or creed.

There is a penalty of $25 per day per person discriminated against, which was opposed by the building and construction trades council and associated home builders.

The trades council said it would not be appropriate to impose the penalty on the contractors for the acts of a subcontractor.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said this presented no great problem. "It's up to the contractor to have the sub-contractor include that in his contract," he said.

Leydecker said "This is not an effort to go out and hang someone, but to reflect the county's philosophy."

The Marin County Chapter of Congress on Racial Equality commended the county "for its forward looking policies in the area of fair employment."

Attorney Charles A. Wilson, general counsel for the Fair Employment Practices Commission, said the county is moving in the right direction.

The board's action also was hailed by James Quiett, chairman of the Marin County Human Rights Committee, and by the committee on religion and race of Christ Presbyterian Church, Terra Linda.

Subdivision Opposed On Number Of Lots

A 3-2 majority of the San Anselmo Planning Commission voted against a proposed three-lot subdivision on Oak Avenue Monday because it thought three was too many lots.

The Independent-Journal reported that the opposition was due to the narrowness of the avenue. Commission Chairman Charles R. Leitzell said all agreed the avenue was too narnow, but the issue at vote was whether three lots should be allowed.

U.S. Rejects Johnson Suite Cost Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has rejected a Republican charge that a suite of offices being built for President Lyndon B. Johnson's use will add 2.65 million dollars to the cost of a new federal building in Austin, Tex.

In a statement last night, the General Services Administration disputed a claim by F. Clifton White, director of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, that the building originally was to cost $7,350,000 but that addition of the Johnson suite had jacked the cost up to 10 million dollars.

"The final cost of the building will be slightly under 8 million dollars," the statement said.

It said further that while "a portion of one floor" was being made available for possible occupancy by President Johnson "no specific requirements have been made of the agency by the White House for this purpose."

The GSA said it "is atuhorized by law to provide space for senators, members of the House and former presidents of the United States."

It said that the Austin building was authorized by Congress in spring of 1960, during the last year of Eisenhower's presidency.

VIVID CONCERT

New Talent Added To Musical Scene

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's concert by pianist Janet Graham established that another talent of major magnitude has been added to the musical roster of Marin County now that she is a resident of Kentfield.

Miss Graham captivated a large audience at Angelico Hall — in which many music connoisseurs were noted — in this second recital in the Dominican College concert artist series.

Serene, cool and poised even when playing dynamic passages in the Beethoven sonatas, she left a vivid impression of being the very personification of the classic spirit. Though she has at her command a wealth of technical resources, her performance was outstanding for profound musicality rather than virtuosity. This was particularly noticeable in slow tempos.

Each of her numbers was a gem of sensitive interpretation in the idiom of its composer. The program and her style of playing were reminiscent of the English pianist Dame Myra Hess — that specialist in Bach, Mozart, Brahms and Beethoven. These composers were represented in Miss Graham's program by the J. S. Bach organ chorale preludes, Mozart Sonata in A Major K. V. 331, Brahms Intermezzi in B Flat Minor and E Flat Major of Opus 17 and Waltz Opus 39, No. 15, and the two Beethoven Sonatas.

These sonatas, the E Minor Opus 90 and E Flat Major Opus 81A were the high point of the evening. Adding the fascination of rhythmical change of pace and piquancy were her delightful performances of "The Three Mary Stars" by Villa-Lobos and Gavottes Opus 32, No. 3, and Opus 25, Prelude Opus 12, No. 7, and march from Prokofieff's "The Love of Three Oranges."

Marinite Named To Pollution Control

Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin County Water District, is one of two men appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to the San Francisco Regional Water Pollution Control Board.

Gilbert succeeds R. C. Kennedy of Oakland, whose term expired.

Also appointed was William H. McCall, an Alameda city councilman who replaced Robert J. Cooney of El Cerrito, who resigned.

Judge Rules 'Confession' Out Of Trial

Prosecution in the trial of Dennis Michael Wagner of Forest Knolls on a charge of receiving stolen property rested its case in Marin Superior Court today shortly after a defense motion to prevent introduction of a purported confession by the defendant was granted by Judge Thomas F. Keating.

William B. Wolfson, San Rafael attorney representing the 21-year-old Wagner, won the ruling on grounds of the recent Dorado ruling. He declared Wagner, as the chief and only suspect in the case, was not advised of his right to counsel, or right to remain silent, prior to any confession.

Earlier, Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth L. Irving testified he learned stolen property including three rifles, a barbecue stand, and furniture was being kept in a cabin near the Wagner home on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the Tamal Road area. He obtained a search warrant from Marin Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas on May 1.

Search revealed the items, he said.

W. L. Mackey, deputy district attorney, is prosecuting. Trial started yesterday. Defense testimony was scheduled to begin this afternoon.

Marin Retail Sales Jump

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Retail sales in Marin County during the April-June quarter of 1964 jumped 14.2 per cent from a year ago to total $58,695,000, the state board of equalization reported.

The county's retails sales amounted to .78 per cent of the state total and produced $1,760,850 in the 3 per cent state sales tax.

Taxable sales of $7,551,568,000 throughout the state during the second quarter were up nearly 10 per cent from a year earlier, producing $226,500,000 in sales tax, or nearly 20 million dollars more than in 1963.

'Prudent Diet' Results On Heart Reported By Medics

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven years ago, more than 800 middle-aged men began following a "prudent diet" aimed at preventing heart attacks.

They became volunteer members of New York City's "Anti-Coronary Club." Their diet changes were designed to reduce the amount of cholesterol — a fatty material blamed for clogging up heart arteries — in their bloodstreams.

Today, medical directors of the Anti-Coronary Club told the American Public Health Assn. of the results to date.

Eight of the club members have died of heart attacks.

This is a rate about one-third that of other middle-aged men also checked who did not change their eating habits.

Seven of the eight died within two years after joining the club. Only one died since then, during years "when presumably the diet had a fuller opportunity to exert its physiological effect."

"It seems reasonable" to attribute the significantly lower rate of heart attacks among club members to the diet, said Dr. Seymour H. Rinzler, a heart specialist.

Men following the food advice had within a year significantly lower levels of cholesterol in their blood than the men not making the change, the report adds.

Among the men following the diet and aged 40 to 49, there was one heart attack for an anuual rate of 196 per 100,000 men. Among another group of similar age not changing their eating habits there were four attacks for a rate of 642 per 100,000.

Among club men aged 50 to 59 there were seven heart attacks for an annual rate of 379 per 100,000, compared with eight attacks among a smaller, nondieting group for an annual rate of 1,331 per 100,000.

The club members reduced the total amount of fats that Americans ordinarily eat. They were told to eat about equal amounts of the three types of fats found in ordinary foods.

The prudent diet was defined as consisting of "equal amounts of meat, poultry and fish; the ususally recommended amounts and types of vegetables and cereals and fruits, and the substitution of low-fat dairy products for those high in fats."

There is no single cause of heart attacks, the report cautions. Diet and cholesterol are implicated, but so are such influences as obesity and high blood pressure.

Yet, it says, the study "appears to have established a reasonable basis for public health action."

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's Royal Ballet, led by Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, will make another tour of the United States next year, it was announced today.

Johnson Signs Shrunken Bill On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Lyndon B. Johnson today signed into law a 3.25-billion-dollar foreign-aid appropriation. It is the smallest amount for the program in five years.

The bill provides money for one more year of economic and military assistance to U.S. friends and allies around the world. It was only 266 million dollars below what the administration had asked.

The aid bill includes 1.05 billion dollars for arms assistance, 773 million dollars for development loans to the poorer nations, 509 million dollars for the Alliance for Progress in Latin America and 401 million dollars to bolster the defense economies of countries bordering on the Sino-Soviet bloc.

Johnson also signed a separate bill to formally authorize extension of the aid program for another year.

Nurse In Hospital For Kitchen Knife Wound

Cynthia Corwin, 23, a Sausalito private nurse, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a knife wound in her abdomen. Police said the wound was self-inflicted with a kitchen knife.

Police received a call late Monday night to go to Miss Corwin's home at 44 Gordon Street, where they discovered her wounded. She told police she had not been able to sleep for several days.

Two Marin Agencies Oppose Proposition 14

Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency commissioners of Marin County adopted identical resolutions yesterday to oppose amendment of the state constitution by Proposition 14 in the Nov. 3 election.

"The authority," the resolution reads, "declares its judgment that the said amendment would impair the opportunity of all persons to obtain housing regardless of their race, color, religion or national origin and that such impairment would be morally offensive and would conflict with the policy of the authority."

Redevelopment Agency commissioners authorized rents for 56 relocation apartments to be built shortly after Nov. 1 at Drake Avenue and Donohue Street. They are, exclusive of gas and electricity, $105 for one-bedroom, $120 for two-bedroom and $140 for three-bedroom. The apartments, the first to be rented on a straight rental basis in Marin City, will have fully equipped kitchens.

The commissioners discussed a letter from the Marin City Improvement Assn. to the county supervisors complaining that limitations and procedures imposed by the architectural review committee for home owners are not similar to those required in other parts of the county.

Stutsman pointed out, he said, that the agency follows restrictions set up by the federal government. Bruce Gardiner, assistant executive director, will meet with the association members tomorrow night when the subject will be discussed, Stutsman said.

Plans for St. Andrews United Presbyterian Church are to be presented by Wayne Osaki, architect, at a meeting with staff members at 10 a.m. on Oct. 15, said Stutsman.

Commissioners authorized calling for bids to reroof the Hilarita housing project, estimated to cost about $8,000.

Ross To Hear Road Plans

Representatives of the Marin County Planning Commission will present proposals and plans for roads in and through Kentfield at a meeting of the Ross Town Council tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall.

The town attorney will report to the council on changing zoning and subdivision ordinances.

The council will also consider a request for a variance allowing an addition to the home of Dr. Andrew Noble, 9 Walnut Avenue, a subdivision request by E. D. Mendenhall to divide seven acres into two parcels in the Willow Hill area, and a request by William C. McDuffie of Woodside Way for permission to build a house on a hillside lot with a slope of more than 30 per cent.

Belvedere Hires Fifth Policeman

Richard Browne, now with the Novato police department, will begin work as a Belvedere policeman on Friday.

Browne, 24, has been with the Novato force for almost a year and previously worked for Belvedere for almost a year. He attended schools in San Francisco and now is attending law enforcement courses at Santa Rosa Junior College in his spare time.

The new patrolman brings the Belvedere force to five fulltime men, including Chief William L. Woodington.

Russ Spy Couple Ask Travel To Czechoslovakia

NEW YORK (UPI)—Accused Russian spies Alexandre Sokolov and his wife chose Czechoslovakia today as the country to which they wish to be deported.

The government withdrew its case against the Sokolovs last Friday on the fifth day of their trial on charges of espionage conspiracy. Authorities feared information would be revealed at the trial which would be against the interests of national security.

The pair appeared this morning before special inquiry officer Ira Fieldsteen in the deportation section of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. Their attorney, Edward Brodsky, said they would offer no objection to a final deportation order.

"They designate Czechoslovakia as the country to which they would like to be sent," Brodsky said.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An exhibit of personal papers and mementos of the late President John F. Kennedy will be shown in the San Francisco City Hall rotunda from Oct. 15 through 18.

Bridgeway Plan Held At Forty Feet Width

Bridgeway is at the crossroads.

That was the message from city engineer B. J. Whitlow to the Sausalito City Council last night. Basically, he said, it is a problem of financing.

It was the seawall area of Bridgeway that was under discussion. All councilmen agreed that the seawall has to be rebuilt, but where to build it, brought disagreement.

Whitlow said the roadway, now 26 feet wide, would have to be widened to a minimum of 40 feet for the city to be eligible for state highway aid on the project.

However, the engineer suggested an even wider roadway, saying the proposed 40-foot cross-section would only be "making allowance for the present." He thought the council should give consideration to future traffic loads.

A 40-foot cross-section would provide two 12-foot traffic lanes and two eight-foot parking lanes. Mayor Jan Paul Dyk moved this plan be recommended with the proposal that the eastern parking lane be restricted and the area used for a pedestrian walkway.

Councilmen Earl F. Dunphy and Carl W. Gabrielson objected to such a detailed recommendation. They asked for more general wording so Whitlow could find out from the state just what the minimum project would be to get state aid.

Dyk said alterations could be made if the state demands a wider street. He estimated that $150,000 to $200,000 in state aid and about $76,000 in county thoroughfare aid were at stake.

Whitlow had alternate cross-sections, showing the new seawall farther out in the bay and the roadway 64 feet wide. These included median, planting strips between the lanes.

After considerable discussion, Dyk's motion for a 40-foot road passed 3-2, with Gabrielson and Dunphy in the minority. Whitlow was skeptical of getting state approval.

The Sausalito Council also:

1. Named Councilmen Melvin S. Wax and Eleanor O'Hara Chapin to serve on a art museum study committee with City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and James M. Leefe, chairman of the Sausalito Museum Advisory Committee. The group will look into the offer of C. Frederick Faude of an art museum at 585 Bridgeway. He has already given several art treasures to the city. The advisory committee recommended acceptance of the museum and appointment of a committee.

2. Agreed to study and asked the city employees to also study proposed revisions in the personnel ordinance. Suggested changes are to be submitted in writing by the Oct. 20 meeting of the council.

3. Took similar action on a proposed television antenna franchise ordinance which spells out standards of performance. The companies hold franchises in the city. Firm representatives were asked to study the proposal for discussion at the next meeting.

4. Approved installation of stop signs at the intersection of Easterby and Filbert streets and on a private drive from the Ardilla Apartments onto Rodeo Avenue.

5. Approved $1,881.24 in change orders for the recently completed firehouse, needed due to soft earth under the foundations which required additional excavation and footings.

6. Approved a tow-away zone in an existing "no parking" area at the intersection of Bridgeway and Princess Street.

7. Received a plaque from the American Automobile Assn. commending the city for nine years without a pedestrial fatality.

8. Approved payment of $49,348.14 in claims and demands.

Art Festival Set In Novato

Entry blanks are available at the Novato Chamber of Commerce or the Novato branch of the Marin County Library.

General chairman is Joan Wiker, who said all types of paintings, sculpture and crafts by artists in the Greater Novato area are welcome.

Johnson, Macapagal Hit China Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson and President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines wound up two days of talks yesterday with a joint communique saying Communist China's aggressive intentions and activities "present an imminent threat in the Far East and in Southeast Asia."

The communique stressed the "unity of commitment and purpose" of the two countries in defending the non-Communist nations of Southeast Asia.

Located on the center, which comprises 17 acres, will be a Safeway store, occupying a 25,000-square-foot area, surrounded by 80 specialty shops. As designed by architects Bakke-Cann-Page Associates, stores will have a rustic appearance with tile roofs, ivy-covered walkways and store-front parking. More than 140,000 square feet of retail shopping area is planned.

Ford Is Strong During Fairly Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed mixed today in fairly active trading.

The market was irregularly higher in early trading but losses cu back the market average.

Ford was strong all day, up more than a point. General Motors backtracked fractionally from recent peaks. Chrysler erased a fractional gain near the end of the session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.2 million shares compared with 4.82 million Tuesday.

Few groups were strong, although aircrafts, rubbers, mail orders and motors were on the upside without much to spare.

Ford bounced to around 61, breaking past the 59⅝ previous peak, and was ahead 1½. Chrysler rebounded from recent losses to be ahead fractionally—as was American Motors. General Motors was off.

Texas Gulf matched Ford's 1½ gain. Radio Corp. of America was up 1 on top of a ⅞ gain Tuesday.

Avon Products, down nearly 2 points, and Dymo Industries, down more than 1, were prominent losers.

Gainers by more than a point included Mattel, Mack Truck, Inspiration Copper, General Cigar, Gillette and Royal Dutch.

Slightly smaller gains were posted by Comsat, ahead 2 at one stage, and Purex Oil.

Rails were spotty, with Union Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio up fractions. Utilities also were mixed.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were higher in active dealings.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were unchanged.

DETROIT—Record seven-year September sales volume was reached as Chrysler Corp. passenger car sales for last 10 days brought the total for the month to 72,422 units.

Cards Coach Sees Similarity Of Winning Years

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Howie Pollet, St. Louis pitching coach and a member of the Cardinals' last pennant-winner 18 years ago, thinks there is a definite similarity between the clubs — "Even to the numbers '46 and '64."

"This whole year has worked in a similar cycle," said Pollet before the World Series opened.

"It's still stunning now to think we beat Pittsburgh five straight and Philadelphia three straight in the last week.

"And the final drive has left us just about where we were in 1946 as far as pitching is concerned," he said. "We were jumbled then, and Sunday we had to use Bob Bibson out of order, so he's working out of the normal rotation."

The Cardinals won the 1946 pennant in a playoff — Pollet pitched the opener — with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"We were out of order then too," Pollet recalled. "I opened the playoff and Series with a torn muscle in my back and pitched with it taped. That Series, by the way, also started in St. Louis."

Pollet did not win in the Series, but the Cardinals beat Boston four games to three with Harry (The Cat) Brecheen posting three victories and Red Munger one.

"It was the three of us, until Murry Dickson started the final game, but Brecheen was in there to finish up. This time, with that day in between, we can go with three again."

The Cardinals plan to use Bob Gibson in the second game here following Ray Sadecki's opening effort. Friday is an open date for travel as the Series switches to New York, when Curt Simmons will get the start in Yankee Stadium.

There will be an open date, again for travel, if the Series moves back to St. Louis after the fifth game.

Pollet turned to the similarity in strengths in center field and in the double play combination between the two teams.

"The '46 club was strong up the middle with Terry Moore in center field and Red Schoendienst and Marty Marion at second and third. And we're just as strong now with Curt Flood in center and Julian Javier and Dick Groat in the infield."

Pollet said he had one more thought.

"You know we were 3-1 underdogs against Boston and the Yankees are favored this time.

"Well, we won then . . ."

No Decision Reached On Cleveland Indians Move

CLEVELAND (AP) — Decision postponed because of indecision. A new decision is due Oct. 16 — maybe.

That about sums up what happened after 18 of the Cleveland Indians' 22 directors huddled for four hours yesterday at Municipal Stadium to decide whether or not the American League club will stay here for the 1965 season.

General Manager Gabe Paul said directors will meet again Oct. 16 "for further study, investigation and consideration."

City Hall expressed disappointment over the postponement. Council President James V. Stanton said directors were using "regrettable judgment" in the delay. Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who headed a Keep-The-Indians-Here drive, said he was disappointed because "Indians' fans would like to know and we are entitled to know."

The Indians' franchise is being wooed by Seattle, Atlanta, Oakland and about eight other cities, which have not been named.

It is believed the postponement will give civic groups a chance to continue their campaign to sell 4,500 advance season tickets for next year. Paul said the Oct. 16 date is "definitely not a deadline" to reach the ticket goal, which would amount to an advance sale of about $900,000.

Paul estimated the Indians lost a total of $2.2 million in 1963 and 1964.

Seattle, also promoting a ticket drive, has sold 2,300 season tickets, which amounts to $700,000. A spokesman for the ticket drive there said "Seattle has a better chance than ever," after the postponement was announced in Cleveland. Ticket sales, however, slacked off after the announcement.

An interesting sidelight to the Indians' plight was the fact revealed yesterday that Cleveland Browns' owner Art Modell had offered Paul $6.3 million for the Indians a couple of weeks ago.

Modell would have retained ownership of the Tribe for 120 days, reorganized, then sold to Clevelanders. He would have had to retire from personal ownership since National Football League rules forbid ownership of major league baseball and football teams.

Modell has said it's a good policy to have both sports operating at the lakefront stadium. The Browns have been playing to sellout crowds.

Paul has met recently with City Hall officials to work out a new lease arrangement for the stadium. He wants a one-year lease with an option to extend it another year.

After the directors' meeting, Paul told newsmen "There are a great many other factors which must be considered and investigated." He didn't elaborate.

The Indians drew 653,293 in the season just ended and finished in a tie for sixth place. Paul said the club's losses would be "in the neighborhood of $1 million." Earlier he had said the Tribe lost $1.2 million in 1963 when it had a home gate of 562,507.

Paul has said the club needs 800,000 at the home gate to break even.

South Korean Newsmen Protesting 'Incident'

SEOUL (AP) — An organization of South Korean newsmen sent a cable to the chairman of the Tokyo Olympic Organization Committee today protesting an incident in which South Korean news photographers were manhandled by members of a pro-North Korean crowd.

The photographers were covering the arrival of a North Korean Olympic delegation in Tokyo Monday.

The cable asked the committee to "guarantee freedom and safety for news coverage by Korean newsmen" during the Olympics.

The news photographers from South Korea reportedly were pushed and hit by youths while covering the arrival and forced to surrender rolls of film.

Baylor, West Lead Lakers Past Warriors

SEATTLE (AP) — Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, the one-two punch of the Los Angeles Lakers, carried their team to a 127-102 exhibition basketball victory over the San Francisco Warriors last night.

Baylor, who was an All-America player for Seattle University, drew cheers from a crowd of 6,850 in the Seattle Coliseum with his razzle-dazzle form and some fantastic passing. It was the first basketball game to be played in the Coliseum.

West led all scorers with 33 points, 22 of them coming in the first half. Baylor had 24 for the night.

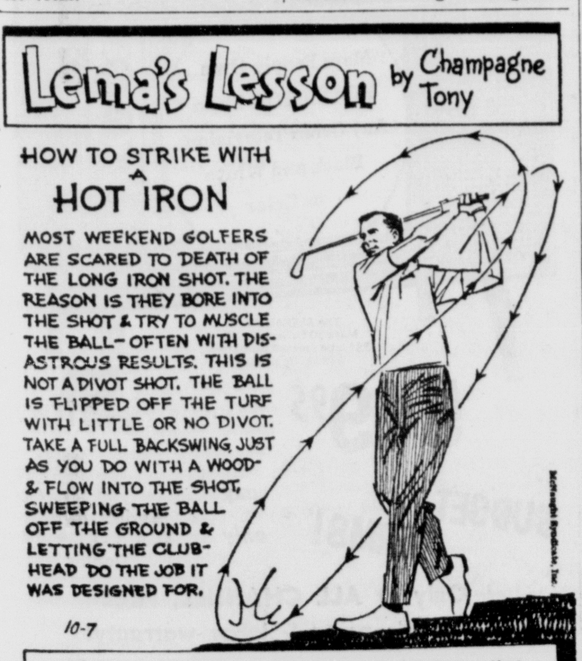

Tom Meschery was high for the losers with 19 tallies, while George Lee and Wayne Hightower contributed 16 to the Warrior total.

Sportswriters Pick Yankees

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The most popular pick among sportswriters and broadcasters covering the World Series is a New York Yankee victory in six games.

Thirty-four of the 51 writers polled yesterday picked a New York victory and 21 of them picked the Yankees in six games. One writer chose the Yankees in four games.

The St. Louis Cardinals got 17 votes. No one could see the Cardinals winning in four games.

COAST GRID SHORTS

Cold Virus Hits Bear Footballer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Tackle John Rusev may be ready to play for the University of California against Navy on Oct. 17.

Rusev, injured in Cal's season opener against Missouri, worked out yesterday, but the cold virus sidelined another player, tackle Ron Calegari.

Coach Ray Willsey said the cold virus apparently is going through the squad.

STANFORD, CALIF. (AP) — Coach John Ralston wants his Stanford Indians to gain five yards more often.

Ralston drilled the Indians extensively yesterday in goal line offense. Stanford stalled five times inside the five yard line last Saturday and lost to UCLA, 27-20.

SAN JOSE, CALIF. (AP)—Light workouts were scheduled for the San Jose State College Spartans, idle until meeting Washington State on Oct. 17.

John Owens was moved up to the first flanker back position ahead of Eddie Titus, on the basis of play last Saturday when San Jose defeated Montana State 20-14.

SEATTLE (AP)—There were lots of Huskies on the practice field yesterday—but only one "Mad Dog."

He was third-string Washington linebacker, Les Dicks, who spent the better part of a spirited football workout impersonating Jack "Mad Dog" O'Billovich, the colorful Oregon State linebacker.

Between some rugged head-knocking, Coach Jim Owens' charges chanted, "Go get 'em, Mad Dog," encouraging sophomore Dicks. To help the illusion, the words, "Mad Dog O'Dizzovich," were emblazoned in white on the back of Dicks' uniform.

Washington and Oregon State meet Saturday in Portland in the Pacific Athletic Conference opener for both teams.

MOSCOW, IDAHO (AP)—The Idaho Vandals appeared no worse for wear after agonizing through stomach disorders Sunday and Monday, so Coach Dee Andros directed the football team through a full contact drill yesterday.

For two hours, Andros worked the players against the type of offensive and defensive formations expected from Oregon, whom Idaho meets here Saturday. One shattering blow to Idaho's chances of upsetting the undefeated Ducks is the continued knee injury of linebacker Dick Litziner.

PULLMAN, WASH. (AP) — Washington State will be favored to even up its season's record at 2-2 when it takes on the University of the Pacific here Saturday.

But Coach Bert Clark isn't tempting the fates. Yesterday he put his footballers through a long day's drill, emphasizing defense against the aerial bombs UOP is expected to uncork.

Only junior guard Wayne Foster remains a doubtful starter. If his knee injury doesn't heal, Clark said Bill Kennedy seems to be the logical replacement.

Women's Sailing Classes Start

Sailing classes for women with small boats will begin tomorrow on Corte Madera Creek in Greenbrae under the instruction of Mrs. Jean Nooney of 77 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, she announced this week.

The course will include small boat handling, rigging, sailing, and safety. Women interested in attending the classes may contact Mrs. Nooney at her home or at tomorrow's first session, next to the Larkspur Fire Department, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Fee for the course is $8.

Chris Not Fooled By Green Bay

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Coach Jack Christiansen of the San Francisco 49ers says that he is not fooled by Green Bay's disappointing 2-2 record to date.

"They're the same team; the same old Packers," he said yesterday of the 49ers' Sunday foe.

But for a couple of blocked extra point attempts, the Packers' record would be 1-0-2. Throw in injuries to fullback Jim Taylor and defensive halfback Herb Adderly and you can explain the Packers' record.

Taylor will be back in action Sunday, while Adderly is a question mark. Minnesota gave his replacement, rookie Doug Hart, quite a workout last Sunday and the 49ers will be expected to do the same if Adderly is still out.

Flanker Bernie Casey of the 49ers, who has pulled a leg muscle, took whirlpool treatments yesterday and still is expected to go Sunday. Dale Messer will start in his place if Casey's injury fails to respond.

Blades Beat Seals 6-4 In Exhibition

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Center Gordon Haworth scored two goals and assisted on two others to lead the Los Angeles Blades to a 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Seals in Western Hockey League exhibition play last night.

Los Angeles took the lead for keeps with 5:39 minutes gone in the first period, as Brian Smith shot a 20-footer past Seal goalie Henry Goy.

The Blades went ahead 3-0 in the second period during the exhibition contest at Bakersfield on two goals a minute apart by cen treHaworth.

Seal winger Gerry Oullette then got his squad's first goal with 14:29 minutes gone in the second period.

Los Angeles scored three goals within five minutes of the third period.

After center Larry Lund brought the Seals to a 3-2 with 4:31 minutes gone in the third period, Los Angeles salted the game away with three goals within five minutes.

The Blades' goals were scored by Willie O'Ree, Leo LaBine and Bob Schmautz.

It was a loosely-played game on both sides. Los Angeles goalie Jack Norris had 45 saves and the Seals' goalie, Goy, had 49.

San Francisco scored the game's final two goals. Al Nicholson made a goal with 14:25 gone in the third quarter and Lorne Caruso with 17:58 minutes gone.

The two Western Hockey League entries begin regular league play this weekend. San Francisco is defending WHL champion.

Brundage To Again Head The Olympics

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP) — Re-election of Avery Brundage as president of the International Olympic Committee gives the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States a powerful ally in its power struggle with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Brundage, the stern, 74-year-old Chicago hotelman who holds strict views on amateurism, won out in a secret ballot over Lord David Brughley, Marquess of Exeter, who takes a somewhat more liberal view of the amateur code.

The vote was announced today as unanimous but this was on a motion by Pakistan after the sealed ballots had been counted. It probably was fairly close in the 70-man committee.

Meanwhile, feverish preparations went forward in a light drizle for the opening of the Olympic Games Saturday when 8,000 athletes from 98 nations will vie for honors before capacity audiences. Virtually everything is ready, and the excitement in Tokyo is almost incomprehensible to a westerner.

The struggle in the Olympic committee for the presidency—first won by Brundage at Helsinki in 1952, also in a contest with England's Lord Burghley—may have a profound impact on American amateur sports.

The American team fielded here was put together under a truce between the AAU and the NCAA imposed by the late General Douglas MacArthur. As soon as the games end and possibly even before the two big sports groups may lock horns.

One possible arena is the meetings next week of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which controls track and field. The IAAF recognizes only the AAU, and the AAU may take this opportunity to present its side of the case to the International Federation.

Although the AAU-NCAA dispute may never come before the IOC, if it does Brundage is almost certain to throw his weight on the side of the AAU. He has always been scornful of college athletic scholarships.

If the AAU-NCAA wrangle goes so far as to cause the IAAF to withdraw recognition from college athletes, most American track and field men would be banned from international competition, including the Olympics.

The NCAA, of course, hopes to achieve recognition from the IAAF or at least a further sharing of responsibilities with the AAU.

ALBA MAYOR JUST CAN'T HONOR BOYERS

ALBA, Mo. (AP)—The mayor of Alba (pop. 336) has flatly rejected a proposal that he issue a proclamation honoring this town's most illustrious citizens.

He said he'd be embarrassed by a proclamation honoring infielders Ken Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals and Clete Boyer of the New York Yankees.

The mayor is Vern Boyer, father of the baseball players.

How about the city clerk; would she issue a proclamation? No, said the clerk.

She's the players' mother.

The Torch Made It To Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — The Olympic torch, ignited Aug. 21 by the rays of the sun amid the Greek ruins on Mount Olympus, reached Tokyo today for the opening ceremony of the 18th Olympiad Saturday.

It was one of four torches divided from Olympic flame which arrived in Naha, Okinawa, Sept. 9 from Athens via land, sea and air.

It was divided into four before it arrived in Japan.

The other three torches being relayed throughout all 48 prefectures (states) of the four major islands of Japan are due tomorrow and Friday in Tokyo where they will be restored into one torch again in front of the Imperial Palace before it is carried on its last relay to the 80,000-seat National Stadium Saturday.

More than one million persons helped relay the torch on its 20,000-kilometer (12,000-mile) journey from Athens, through Istanbul, Beirut, Tehran, Lahore, New Delhi, Rangoon, Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur, Manila, Hong Kong, and Naha, Okinawa.

In Japan the torch was carried by some 100,000 persons, dressed all in white, for one to two kilometer stretches. There were several casualties en route during its one month journey through Japan.

It will be carried on its last leg to the stadium by Yoshinori Sakai, 19, a University freshman, born about 30 miles from Hiroshima when that city was A-bombed Aug. 5, 1945.

Frick Backs Milwaukee Fans

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick says he will insist that Milwaukee interests be given a chance to buy the Braves if the present owners edcide to move, the Milwaukee Sentinel last night.

Red Thisted, Sentinel baseball writer, said in a story from St. Louis that Frick told him the Braves might have a "verbal understanding" with another city to which they would move. There have been rumors, unconfirmed by the ball club, that the franchise would be moved to Atlanta in 1965.

"But this I want to insist upon," Frick was quoted as saying, "that if it is their decision to move they should give the Milwaukee people an opportunity to buy the club and keep it there (in Milwaukee)."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK — Bill Collins, 152½, Nashville, Tenn., outpointed Bobby Cassidy, 152½, Levittown, N.Y. 8.

SAN ANTONIO — Henry Dominguez, 136, Odessa, Tex., stopped Richard Medrano, 136½, Austin, Tex., 4.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Dandy Prep Grid Race Brewing; Another Crucial Game Friday

Does Drake High own the Marin Athletic League's best football team?

That question was floating around prep circles last Saturday night after the Pirates kayoed the Redwood Giants 28-6. Most of the standing-room-only crowd at Kentfield came away pretty well convinced Drake's Larry Stein is the county's best end and Dean Lazzarini the best broken field runner. Joe DeMasi, the fullback, is tough up the middle on power plays and Al Simontacchi, the rangy quarterback, throws a beautiful pass.

But there were others in the crowd who felt Drake can be had. The Pirate defense ran hot and cold, some argued. What will it do against a balanced and explosive attack like, for example, Terra Linda's? they ask.

At season's start Drake appeared head and shoulders over the rest of the league. But Terra Linda, under Coach Pete Limm's whip cracking, has come up with a fine, undefeated club. So has Novato under Coach Marlin Olsen.

It looks like a three-way race for the title now. But don't discount San Rafael which seemed to come of age with a big win over St. Mary's last Friday. And Redwood could bounce back to surprise a few.

This looks like one of the best prep grid seasons we've had in Marin in some time. Next blue ribbon attraction is this Friday night between Terra Linda and Novato at San Rafael High. Shapes up as a dandy and one you won't want to miss.

Sharing the spotlight with the preps on Friday night will be the College of Marin Tars who entertain a toughie in American River J.C. at the Kentfield stamping grounds.

Saturday the preps have the stage to themselves with the powerful Petaluma High team making its second Marin appearance at Kentfield against Redwood, 2 p.m. and Tam at San Rafael and Drake - Marin Catholic at Kentfield sharing the evening bill.

Petaluma proved plenty tough before losing to unbeaten Drake in its last Marin visit.

SAN RAFAEL Military Academy's Friday afternoon game with St. Vincent's of San Rafael will be televised for showing on KGO-TV (Channel 7) Saturday morning, 8 to 10 o'clock. Smile, boys.

REAL MARIN Soccer Club of San Rafael is still looking for three experienced players. If you think you fill the bill, report to player-coach Norbert Krier tomorrow, 6:30 p.m., at the San Rafael High School gym. The soccer league season starts Oct. 25.

TERRY BOOTH'S 1,149 five-game series for the San Rafael Padres Sunday night was only second best in the Western Pro Bowling League. Same night, Stockton's Al Chan rolled an 1187 five-gamer to rob our guy of a record.

San Rafael hosts South San Francisco at Country Club Bowl next Sunday, 6 p.m. Spectators welcome free.

CROWD CONTROL at Kentfield football games is no better now than it was 20 years ago. Kids still crowd along the sidelines despite the repeated attempts by officers to move 'em back. San Rafael High controls its stadium much better.

A SAFETY in high school football is an eight-point play almost every time. Kicking off from their own 20-yard-line after a safety is too great a handicap for the high schoolers. The receiving team has the great edge and more times than not marches right back to add six more points.

It happened three time in Marin last weekend — San Rafael against St. Mary's, Drake against Redwood and Novato over Marin Catholic.

Since there's little hope of rules makers changing the safety rules, it's a good idea not to get caught behind your own goal.

STUDY OF CONCENTRATION

Drake High School head football coach Bob Franceschini (left) and linebacker Joseph Wardell concentrate on the action during Drake's 28-6 victory over Redwood in their league opener last Saturday. This weekend, the Pirates of Drake play Marin Catholic at College of Marin stadium Saturday night at 8 o'clock, while the Giants of Redwood play Petaluma in a practice game on the same field Saturday at 2 p.m. In the other two Marin Athletic League games, Novato and Terra Linda clash in a big one Friday night at 8 on the San Rafael High School field, and Tam and San Rafael battle Saturday night at 8 on the San Rafael High field. (Independent-Journal photos by Dave Mayhew)

CLEAN TACKLE—Drake linebacker Charles Hahn makes a clean tackle on Redwood end Bill Kilcoyne after a five-yard completed pass from Ed Hutchison during their game Saturday. The play was good for a first down.

THE BIG SHOW

U.S. Track Stars Quiet, Confident

By JOHN DE LA VEGA

TOKYO (AP) — Quietly confident.

That's the general tone of America's talent laden track and field forces as they tune up for the big show — the Olympic Games starting Oct. 10.

Track and field competition doesn't start until Oct. 14 and lasts eight days.

But several of Uncle Sam's biggest stars are ready right now and fairly itching for the starting signal.

Two of these are Ralph Boston, who set a pending world long jump record of 27 feet-4¼ inches in the final team trials and Bob Hayes, generally recognized as the World's Fastest Human of all time off his three 9.1 100-yard clockings the past two years, although none has been ratified as an official world standard.

READY TO GO

"I'm ready to go now, man," says Boston, but he will have to wait until Sunday, Oct. 18 to strut his stuff.

Boston, who will renew a historic rivalry with the Soviet Union's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, the listed record holder at 27-3¼, doesn't think it will necessarily take a world record jump to win, although the Olympic mark of 26-7¼ which he set at Rome in 1960 is sure to go.

"I feel confident of jumping right out of that pit," says the relaxed veteran, "but there are too many elements that have to be just right at the time to set a record. The big object here is just to win, no matter what it takes."

Hayes, who "played it cool" for several months after suffering a leg injury while winning the National AAU 100 meters in late June, says he's ready to ramble.

"There was some doubt about how it would hold up in the final Olympic trials in Los Angeles but it came out fine. It's not a problem any more.

Hayes, who will rush back after the Olympics to finish out the season as a Florida A&M halfback, revealed he will go all out for a world 100-meter record in the opening heat on Wednesday morning, Oct. 14.

"If things are right, I'll blast off," he said. "It would be as good a time as any to get that 9.9 I've been looking for these last two years."

The listed world record is 10.0, by Armin Hary of Germany and Canada's Harry Jerome — the latter will be in the competition.

"My plan," explains the muscular Hayes, "is to shoot the works in that first race, qualify as comfortably as possible the next morning and then give it everything again in the finals that afternoon. I know there will be plenty of opposition. If Jerome is sound he'll be tough."

OTHER HEADLINERS

Some of the other American headliners aren't feeling quite as sharp as Boston and Hayes but that's the way they prefer it. As hurdler Hayes Jones, a veteran of the 1956 and 1960 Olympiads put it, "If I felt perfect right now I'd be worried. Just a little more honing and I'll be ready."

Rex Cawley, who set a world record of 49.1 for the 400 meter hurdles in the Olympic Trials, laughed off reports that a leg ailment is bothering him.

"It's just a little twinge, an old thing and nothing to worry about. I don't say I could go out and break 49 flat right now but next week that's what I aim to do.

Mrs. Pinkus Wins Low Net

Mrs. Nathan Pinkus won the low net trophy yesterday in Guest Day action at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club when she shot a 93-23—70.

Class A—Mrs. Robert Vanucci, 87-16—71; Mrs. Thomas Brymer, 88-17—71; Mrs. Roger Williams, 87-15—72; Mrs. F. J. Northway, 89-17—72.

Class B — Mrs. Art Shallock, 91-18—73; Mrs. Charles MacDonald, 93-18—75; Marcia Lee, 95-19—76; Mrs. John Mumaw, 96-20—76.

Doctor Raps Youth Isometric Exercises

CHICAG O(AP) — A doctor who is a former collegiate football player advocated yesterday preventing boys under 15 not only from playing football and other contact sports but also from participating in the newly popular isometric exercises — including some that can be done in bed or armchair.

Dr. Nick J. Accardo, an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at Tulsa University Medical School and a onetime guard on Tulane's football team, said the potential injury hazard of such activities to youngsters stems from these facts:

"They have not reached maturity of growth . . . their muscles have advanced ahead of their bone development . . . the ends of their bones have not fully closed."

Defining isometric exercises as those involving "exerting maximum effort against an immovable object," the surgeon said these offer a fast means of putting physiologically mature football players in condition, and also are great for tight scheduled business men.

For example, he said in a report to the annual meeting of the American College of Surgeons, one isometric exercise involves merely interlocking the fingers of one's two hands and pulling hard in opposite directions — as a means of developing shoulder muscles.

Bears And Giants In Turnabout

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago Bears and New York Giants, 1-2 last year in the Natitnal Football League, are heading for a complete turnabout in 1964.

The Bears, defending NFL champions, are buried in the Western Division cellar and the Giants, Eastern Division titlists in 1963, are deep in the second division.

The official team statistics, released today, provide the key to the two clubs' poor getaway.

A year ago Chicago's defense was the best in the NFL and New York had the most powerful offense. In four starts this year — each has dropped three — the Bears are last in team defense and the Giants are the tailenders in offense.

Chicago opponents have scored 134 points. The Bears yielded only 14 touchdowns over the full 14-game schedule in 1963. Minnesota, Baltimore, Green Bay and San Francisco have piled up 1,483 yards against the Bears for a per-game average of 370.8. Last year the Bears allowed only 227 net yards per-game.

The 1963 Giants scored 448 points, second highest total in NFL history. This year's club has a total of 47 points, an average of under 12 compared with 32 per-game a year ago. The Giants' net yardage of 962 represents a drop of over 100 yards per-game from last years figure.

Two Coast Gridders Lead Nation's Ground-Gainers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stanford's Ray Handley and Washington's Junior Coffey are making their battle for Pacific Athletic Conference rushing honors a national affair.

The latest NCAA statistics show Handley leading the nation's collegiate runners with 386 yards gained on 59 carries, for an average of 6.5 yards per carry. Next in line—nationally as well as in the conference—is Coffey, with 321 yards on 58 rushes and an average of 5.8.

Other PAC players also are contending for national as well as conference honors.

UCLA's Larry Zeno tops the nation in total offense with 646 yards—445 passing and 201 rushing — with California's Craig Morton in third place and Bob Berry of Oregon ranked seventh.

Morton, the conference's leading passer, ranks second in the nation with 53 completions in 83 attempts for a fancy .646 completion average and 660 yards gained.

Zeno's passing yardage gives him second place in the conference followed by Berry (446 yards) and Terry DeSylvia of Stanford (305 yards).

Morton's favorite target, lanky Jack Schraub, tops both the conferece and nation with 22 receptions good for 248 yards and one touchdown.

Ray Palm of Oregon has caught only half as many passes as Schraub but has totaled four touchdowns on aerials to lead the PAC in that category.

Top Tennis Amateurs At Belvedere

Twenty-five of the top Northern California amateur tennis players will be competing in the Marin County Men's Invitational tournament starting this weekend at the Belvedere Tennis Club.

The tourney will be held Oct. 10, 11, 17 and 18, with competition in both singles and doubles. Early entrants who are nationally ranked include Jim McManus, Cliff Vickery, Gene Ward and Jack Darrou.

This tourney has been held at the Mill Valley Tennis Club in previous years, but construction of a new clubhouse there made it necessary to change the location this year.

J. Paul Wilkins, pro and manager of the Belvedere Tennis Club, will be in charge of the tourney, billed as the "most exciting event in the history of the club."

It will be the last men's state sanctioned tournament in northern California tennis for 1964.

Marin Catholic 'C' Cagers Win

Marin Catholic's Class C basketball team won its fourth straight game yesterday, downing Tamalpais 51-39. The Wildcats are now 4-0 in Marin Athletic League play.

High scorers for Marin were Rick Garms and Brian McLaughlin, each with 12, and Harry Matsinger with 11. Leading the Indians of Tam was Chuck Huff with 18 points.

Powell May Miss Raiders' Game

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — The 0-4 Raiders, who'd like to start winning games for a change, have a new worry. Flanker-end Art Powell may not be able to go against the New York Jets Saturday night.

It's reported Powell's bad right leg may eliminate him from the game. For nearly a month, Powell has not been up to full efficiency.

Although Coach Al Davis is concerned, he says, "Oh, I think Art will be ready when he sees that big crowd in Shea Stadium."

And it will be a big crowd. Reports say sales have reached the 22,000 mark and may reach an unprecedented 50,000.

As for Powell, his elimination from the game would call up replacement Bill Miller, obtained from Buffalo where he earned a reputation for hauling in hard ones.

Gus Mellick Leads Nave Bowlers

Gus Mellick had the past week's high series at Nave Lanes when he rolled a 658 on games of 246, 212 and 200 in the Nave Masters 885 Scratch League.

Rol Walberg had the week's high game, a 258 in the 840 Scratch League. Other big scores were recorded by Johnny Roll, 627—213-215 in the Thursday Men's Handicap; John Coffee, 626—214-224 in Nave Masters, and Jim Hazen, 247 in the Nite Owls League.

Gerry Beckley headed the women's action with a 244 game and 578 series in the Washday League. Edie Micklewright was next with a 545—202 in the Las Vegas League.

In the YBA Junior Division, Billy Nave rolled a 565 series and Johnny Sjoblom had a 217 game.

SALMON PLAYING GUINEA PIG ROLE

By ELLEN BRY

Three thousand chinook salmon are being used as guinea pigs at the old Tiburon Net Depot.

They have survived an "incurable" disease known as SRCSD to scientists and in plain words as the Sacramento River Chinook salmon disease which makes fish swim erratically and usually ends in their death.

These salmon survived and now are six months old and three to six inches long. They reside in four wooden tanks on the pier of what was the net depot, watched over by scientists of the bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The fish, coming from a federal hatchery in Redding last week, will lead the good life, hand fed and protected from the rigors of the wilds so they can spawn and perhaps generate a strain of salmon which is resistant to the disease, Gerald B. Talbot, chief of the Tiburon bureal, explained.

The salmon were trucked in from Redding as scientists in Tiburon put ice in the tubs which awaited them to bring the water temperature down to the cooler temperature of the water at Redding.

This week, in an approximation of the salmon life cycle, fresh and salt water is flowing through hoses into the tubs to effect a gradual change entirely to salt water in which the fish will live for the next three years.

Salmon are spawned in fresh water streams and head out to sea where they live four to five years, in this area of California, before returning to spawn and die in fresh water streams.

Chinook salmon are variously known as king, spring, tyee, quinnat salmon or black mouth trout, depending on whether they are in California, Oregon, Canada or Alaska.

When the Tiburon salmon grow larger they will be transferred to larger tanks and, after about three years, returned to a fresh water environment to spawn what are hoped to be disease-resistant fish.

Meanwhile they are hand fed about five pounds of special fish food each day and kept in locked tanks to make sure they won't end up as bait on the end of the hook of an overly avid fisherman.

State Assembly Meeting Oct. 19 Important To All Gun Owners

STEVENS

I am going to devote the major part of today's column to the gals and guys who own and use shotgun, rifle or a small arm.

On the 19th of this month there will be a hearing on the existing laws pertaining to firearms. The State Assembly Committee will conduct this meeting. It will be a study of the entire field of California laws relating to the sale, possession and use of all types of firearms.

The conclusions reached by this committee should be of vital importance to every gun owner, gun collector and sportsman's club. Every sportsman's club should appoint a committee to study the present gun laws, discuss the subject at a meeting of the club members. Every gun owner, every retail dealer in guns, even manufacturers and factory representatives could be very seriously affected if more stringent firearms measures are recommended by the committee. Bear in mind that, historically, recomendations of interim committees bear great weight in regular legislative sessions.

THIS IS one time when the prevailing idea of "Let George do it" should be ignored and you as a gun owner should give your personal opinion on the existing California firearms laws, and suggest any changes you feel may help the committee make up their minds. You can do this by taking the few minutes to send a letter containing your opinion to any member of the Assembly Criminal Committee and do it well before Oct. 19, the date the committee meets.

You can address your letter or telegram to the chairman of the committee, Gordon H. Winton Jr., Room 5159, State Capitol, Sacramento, or to Robert W. Crown, Room 7018, State Building, 1111 Jackson Street, Oakland.

THE SECRETARY of a local sportsmen's club told me he is going to get the signatures of most of the members on a single sheet of paper under a well considered letter on the opinion of the present firearms law, with any suggestions the members feel will strengthen same.

That's a good idea, I admit, but in my estimation 20 individual letters would bear more weight.

SO THAT'S all on the subject of hunting and hunters. Now for a very brief look at what's with the angling fraternity. From where I sit, the striper picture shows quite a bit of improvement, especially regarding bait fishing.

Three of my contacts in the local areas claim both bait fishing and trolling are showing a great improvement.

On the Marin side of the bay, China Camp reported quite good bait fishing was shown on Saturday, while the trolling with anchovies paid off in great shape on Sunday. Joe Nerviani of Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia told me he had similar views. Limits were not prevalent, but bait fishing was fair to good in fairly deep water—about 30 feet—two miles out from Cat Rock not far from the San Pablo buoy. Two boats on Sunday morning out of Joe's Launching came in with four bass from four to 14 pounds.

A flock of small boats made the grade Saturday and Sunday morning on the Contra Costa side of the bay at numerous spots from Point Wilson to Crockett. Some on bait and some on artificials.

Goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Humane Society Reports Year's Action, Goal Ahead

The biggest task in the history of the Humane Society of Marin County is still unfinished, but a number of "firsts" were accomplished during the past year, according to the society's annual report issued this week.

A public fund drive to raise $250,000 to build a new humane education center and animal shelter at Ignacio is at about the one-third mark. Construction will begin soon on the first phase, the report says, to permit moving from the San Rafael quarters. The building fund is the first public donation appeal by the society in its 57 years of existence.

The first horsemastership class, held in an indoor arena in Fairfax, attracted 300 participants in a six-week course and will be repeated, society president Frederic D. Kerr noted.

A 16-millimeter film made by the Humane Society of the United States in the San Rafael headquarters and elsewhere in the county is being shown nation-wide on television stations and to organizations, according to Mel L. Morse, executive director of the Marin society.

The Humane Society Auxiliary held its first fashion show luncheon and sale of items from the auxiliary's Thrift Shop, president Mrs. Arne Kionig reported. The women held their first membership drive in March, gaining 12 active members and six associate members.

The 12-page report also reviews the relationship between the county-city animal control, rabies quarantine, licensing and other operations and the humane society, pointing out that the county pays a part of the operating costs, but not such items as capital outlay.

First unit to be built at the Ignacio site will be animal shelter pens; offices and meeting facilities for dog training clubs and other animal organizations will be added later, the report explained.

Names of more than 85 donors to the memorial kennel fund for the new shelter are published in the annual bulletin.

Madrigal Singers Of Dominican To Present Sausalito Program

Madrigal Singers of Dominican College under the direction of Winifred Baker will present the program for the Sausalito Woman's Club's Oct. 15 program.

They will be introduced at 2:30 p.m. by music chairman Mrs. Edgar D. Ross.

Shakespearean songs will be featured, with soprano and contralto solos accompanied by the piano, harp and flute. Recorder and guitar arrangements may also be offered.

The first Madrigal concert at Dominican College was performed 30 years ago by six students in Angelico Hall under the direction of Sister Dominic McGettigan, head of the music department at that time, who had just returned with fresh ideas from a European trip.

Efforts have been made to maintain the distinctive quality of that first performance. The number of voices has been increased, thus making possible variety in the music and lyrics. Now the original Elizabethan Madrigals are interspersed with folk melodies, old and modern part-songs and even with solo arrangements of instrumental and vocal works.

Winifred Baker continues in the tradition created by Dr. Giulio Silva, conductor of the group for many years. She was educated at London University and the royal school of music. She is the founder of the Winifred Baker chorale and children's chorus which a few months ago gave the West Coast premiere of Gian Carlo-Menotti's cantata, "The Death of the Bishop of Brindisi."

Greeting members and guests will be Mesdames Hal B. Fletcher and Norton Meyer. Tea will be served by Mesdames Earl Thompson and William V. Lynch.

Congregational Women Plan Tea

A membership tea to meet new members will be given by the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere - Tiburon on Oct. 14 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Del Mar Estates home of Mrs. Robert H. Judd in Tiburon.

Mrs. Herbert Spillman of Belvedere, Mrs. Judd's mother, will pour tea.

Greeting guests will be the officers, Mrs. Merritt Mason of Tiburon, president; Mrs. George E. Butts of Strawberry, vice president; Miss Minnie Calkins of Mill Valley, secretary, and Mrs. Marcel R. Ehrer of Strawberry, treasurer.

Reception Set In Belvedere School

A reception will be given at the St. Stephen's Parish Day School for the parents and faculty tomorrow evening. Receiving guests will be the Rector, the Rev. Llewellyn White, educational consultant Dr. Dorothy Blackmore, and Mrs. James Michael, chairman of the board. Directors Dr. David Merten of Ross, Mr. Albert Agnews of San Rafael, and Messrs. Kirk Bassett, Thomas Behrens, William Main and Chester Bunnell, all of Belvedere-Tiburon, and Mrs. Robert Bastian, will also receive guests. Two other directors will be absent, as they are traveling in Europe. They are the Mesdames William Pomeroy and Margaret W. Smith.

Assisting Mrs. Michael will be Mesdames Benjamin Bonelli, Phillip Ehrlich Jr., and George Whitney.

Root Beer, Fire Hats For Fire Prevention

Belvedere and Tiburon youngsters can learn about fire prevention from two fire departments while drinking root beer and wearing replica fire helmets on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department will be host to the traditional root beer bust to mark the end of Fire Prevention Week.

Free root beer and popcorn will be served youngsters while they listen to a brief fire safety program and then get a ride on fire trucks. Refreshments are purchased with funds from the annual firemen's ball.

The next day, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., youngsters can look at the big red fire trucks of the neighboring Tiburon Fire District. Any child accompanied by an adult will be given a replica of a fireman's hat to wear.

Tiburon firemen will lecture on fire prevention in the Reed district schools next week.

The Japanese lost 26 ships in the Battle for Leyte Gulf. The Allies lost six.

Sen. McCarthy, Vera Schultz Debate Slated

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) and Democrat Vera Schultz, his opponent in the November election, will debate on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The hour-long program, part of the Sounding Board's current political series, will be recorded for re-broadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday. Moderator is Kitty Oppenheimer.

Listeners may call in questions during the live broadcast.

Next week's program will deal with pros and cons of Proposition 16, which would set up a privately-operated state lottery.

Academic Load Rules Out Marching Band At Game

The 70 brilliant uniforms of the San Rafael High School marching band are hanging on the wall this year, because there aren't enough bodies to fill them.

This means the Bulldogs will have no massed display of fast-stepping musicians on the football field at halftime, for the first time in more than 15 years, band leader Melvin Stanley said. Not enough students signed up for the sixth-period band class, Stanley said.

In get-togethers Thursday after school, Stanley usually has a turnout of more than 70 musicians, but one afternoon a week is not enough time to practice the necessary drills, he explained. "We're getting a lot of repercussions" over the lack of marching tootlers, he reported.

Why the lack of signups this year? Stanley said it likely is due to academic pressure. Students carrying a heavy load of collenge entrance requirement courses are unable to fit the marching band class into their schedules, he said.

The students' own 18-piece "pep band," which has played for three years at basketball games, will also play during football games this year, but is not planning to march, Stanley said.

Death Car Driver Sent To Vet Hospital

Kenneth Mark New, driver of the car which killed Arthur S. Olson of Novato on the Golden Gate Bridge last week, has been admitted to Martinez Veterans Hospital for observation and treatment of a mental ailment.

New's lawyer told San Francisco Municipal Court Judge George Maloney yesterday that New went to Oakland Veterans Hospital for treatment Friday and was referred immediately for admission to Martinez.

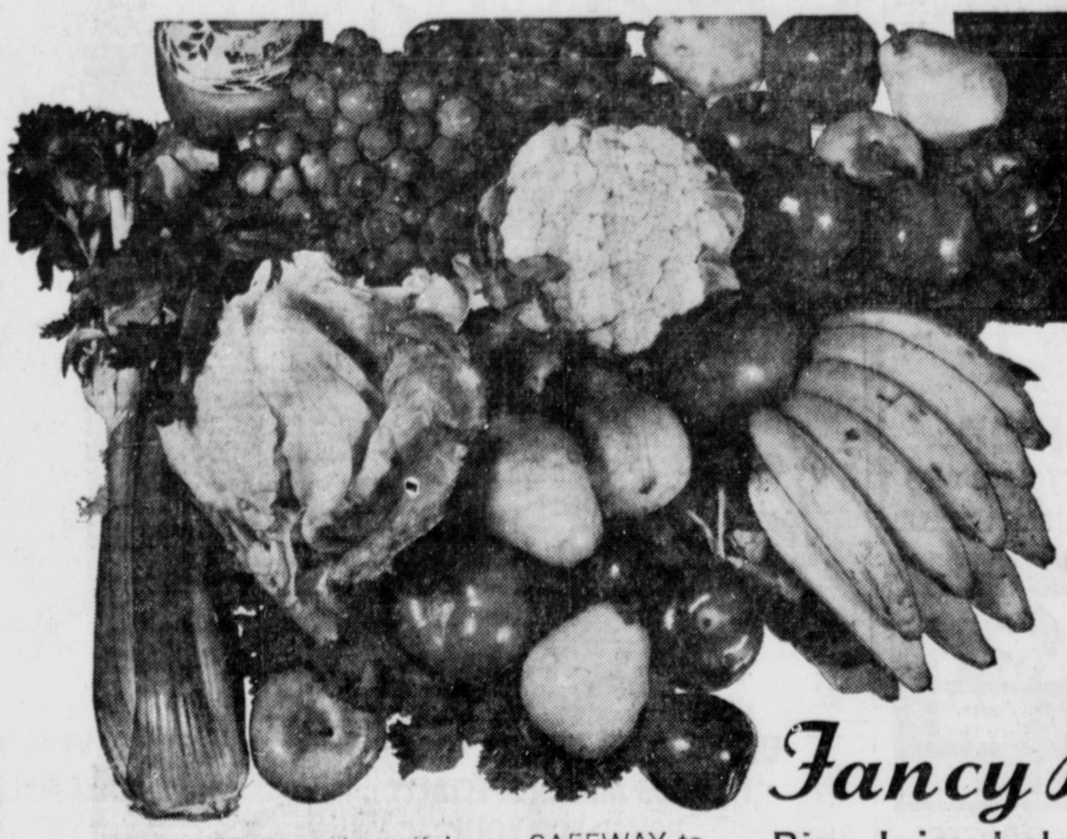

New has a history of schizophrenia and was discharged from the Navy last year after a period of intensive treatment in Oakland Naval Hospital.

Judge Maloney continued the case to Oct. 21, when he expects to hear a report on New's condition. New is charged with automobile felony manslaughter, but has yet to make his plea.

Two TB Deaths Are Reported

Two deaths from tuberculosis in Marin last month and a 72 per cent increase in TB cases during the first nine months of the year were reported today by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The two victims, men aged 36 and 66, died of previously undiscovered tuberculosis.

As of Oct. 1, 31 new cases of TB had been reported to the Marin County Health Department, as compared with 18 during the same period of last year.

In addition, four re-activations were reported, in three men and one woman.

New TB patients, 14 males and 17 females, range in age from 7 to 84. Six minors included are a Marin City girl of 7; two Fairfax boys, both 10; a Kentfield girl, 12; a Mill Valley boy, 15, and a San Anselmo girl, 16.

Six young adults in the 20s and 30s developed active TB.

Geographically, distribution of reported cases is nearly countywide: Mill Valley six, plus one re-activated case; Fairfax, five; Novato and Marin City, each four; Kentfield, three; San Anselmo and San Rafael, each two, plus one re-activated case in San Anselmo and two in San Rafael; one each at Muir Beach, Hamilton Air Force Base, Tiburon, Larkspur, and the Point Reyes area.

Escapee Faces Gas Chamber

Jesse James Gilbert, 39, who escaped from San Quentin Prison on last July, has been returned to face a death sentence for the shooting of a policeman in Alhambra.

Gilbert and a cohort were robbing a savings and loan association in Alhambra last January when Police Sgt. George Davis tried to stop them. Gilbert shot his way out, killing Davis. Gilbert's fellow robber was shot during the battle.

Gilbert was later apprehended by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Philadelphia.

Auto Parts Firm Charged With Slanting Smog Aids

An official of the Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression charged today that a local auto parts firm is misleading the public in its advertisements on auto smog control devices.

Lester E. Jennings Jr. of Corte Madera, coordinator of Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression, criticized an advertisement that says all vehicles prior to 1961 must be equipped with a device before Feb. 4, 1965.

"Nowhere in the code is there any threat of punishment for non-compliance other than the inability of the owner to register his vehicle for 1966 (not 1965)," said Jennings.

"Nowhere is the deadline Feb. 4, 1965, given in this code. I believe the firm so advertising owes . . . its readers a full retraction of this mis-information contained in their ads."

Jennings said further that only cars between 1950 and 1960 must have crankcase devices installed, not "all vehicles prior to 1961."

Furthermore, the law calls for installation during the first 10 months of 1965, not "before Feb. 4, 1965."

Jennings wrote to Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, protesting "this scare-sales type of advertising."

"The implication of dire consequences for not immediately installing the unit is too strong to be ignored," Jennings wrote.

Voters Turn Down Plan For Hospital

VISALIA (UPI)—Voters in the Kaweah Delta Hospital District refused yesterday to approve a $7,733,000 bond issue for construction of a 110-bed hospital.

The vote was 4,738 to 3,004—424 votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Only about 46 per cent of the district's voters turned out for the election.

College Election

Tina Baldwin defeated Sue Doran, 107 to 95 yesterday in the runoff election for freshman women's representative at College of Marin.

U.C. Students Collect For Car

BERKELEY (AP) — Students who damaged a University of California campus police car during demonstrations last week have collected $350 to repair the auto.

Student leaders said yesterday that school officials estimated damages to the car at $350. The money was collected off-campus.

The car, the officers and an arrested youth inside it, were held captive for 32 hours and students used the auto as a speaker's platform.

Students demonstrated after, they complained, school officials restricted their political activity on the campus.

MRS. HARRY A. SIMPSON
Ends service

Marinite Ends U.S. Service

Mrs. Harry A. Simpson of 8 Third Street, San Rafael, retired last week after completing an 18-year career in the federal civilian service at the headquarters of the 15th Army Corps at the Presidio, San Francisco.

Mrs. Simpson and her husband moved to California in 1920. She joined the civil service in 1942 in the Army medical depot at the Presidio. She worked with the war assets administration and the Sixth Army machine records unit until 1961 when she joined the staff of the 15th Corps.

She received a superior performance award in 1961. She is a member of the Pythian Sisters of San Rafael, American Women's Business Assn., and the American Federation of Government Employees.

The Simpsons have two daughters, Mrs. John Vivaldo of San Rafael and Mrs. Paul Brust of Denver, and a son, Harry R. Simpson of Greenbrae.

11 Firemen To Work In San Rafael

Eleven men, eight of whom are already Marinites, will join the San Rafael Fire Department Oct. 15.

The firemen will fill new positions created by opening the new Station Four at Bellam Boulevard, and will be paid $525 monthly. They are:

Stanley J. Steer Jr. of 29 Palm Avenue, Novato; Michael Tompkins of 1784 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax; Lawrence E. Wall of 360 DuBois Street, San Rafael; Edward P. Meager of 848 B Street, San Rafael; Max E. Carpenter of 225 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, Bruce D. Cooper of 116A McAllister Avenue, Kentfield;

Robert E. Romer of Sonoma; Bruce K. Marshall of Pinole; Kahl H. Baeck of 77 La Meda Drive, Alto; Jeffery J. Farber of San Francisco, and Frederick C. Shipley of 102 LaBrea Way, Santa Venetia.

Farmers Critical Of Welfare Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A farmer can't afford to pay welfare recipients $1.25 an hour to do farm labor, a farm spokesman maintains.

Paul Schilling, president of the Artesia Growers Assn., told the Board of Supervisors yesterday that if the supervisors want men on county relief to take field jobs, the county should pay part of their wages.

When the supervisors adopted a proposal last week for using reliefers to replace Mexican nationals in the fields, they stipulated that growers should pay a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

The plan contained no provision for the county to contribute.

- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM?

(we refer to home buyers)

- The largest percentage of home buyers (71.9%)* who buy homes in the Novato Area are ALREADY living in Marin County.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, COVERING 2 OUT OF EVERY 3 HOMES in the county.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.
- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- SOURCE: "A Survey on the Origins of Home Buyers in Marin County," conducted by the Marin County Abstract and Title Company.

Attack Charged To Bus Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Juvenile crime investigators last night arrested a city bus driver on a charge of suspicion of aggravated assault—slashing a student with a straight-edge razor.

Willie B. Liggons, a driver for 18 years, allegedly told police he struck out with the razor in self-defense as the boy and other youths knocked him down and kicked him as he tried to eject them from his bus.

Tommy Bell, 15-year-old atlete, was treated at Harbor Emergncy Hospital. Doctors removed a piece of razor blade nearly two inches long from his head.

Joesiah Bell, brother of the victim, told police the driver attacked his brother.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Cancer Of Stomach One Of Most Serious Of Malignancy Problems

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the stomach is one of the most serious of the malignancy problems. The statistics are gloomy, regardless of how they are considered. This disease causes almost 25,000 deaths a year (1950) because it seldom is diagnosed early enough to cure. Why is our batting average so low?

The majority of early gastric cancers are painless. Some victims have vague abdominal uneasiness, especially after meals, bloating, and a sense of fullness. But most of us have such symptoms every now and then, which can be traced to swallowing air or eating too fast, too much, or the wrong food.

DIMINISHED appetite and loss of weight are more significant manifestations but if cancer is responsible, it is well established by this time. Many have ulcerated and it is not always easy to determine whether the crater is a malignant or benign stomach ulcer. Many physicians suggest surgery when there is doubt.

Various diagnostic measures have been developed to aid in the detection of gastric cancer. X-ray is the most dependable way to uncover the presence of a lesion in the stomach. The next step is to determine whether it is malignant. Looking at the inside of the stomach with a gastroscope is helpful, especially when a biopsy can be done.

ANOTHER METHOD is the pap smear. Cells from the lining of the lesion are obtained by washing out the stomach or swallowing an abrasive balloon. A new tetracycline-fluorescent test also is available.

What we need is a simple procedure for mass surveys. This is understandable, since the cause of stomach cancer is not known and we must rely upon early detection to bring about cure.

SLEEPING POSTURE

M. S. writes: Does sleeping on the abdomen have an adverse effect upon a diaphragmatic hernia?

REPLY

No, but this sleeping posture might bring on distress. This type of hernia is more likely to push through the diaphragm on lying down. It returns to normal when standing or sitting. Victims of this condition do better when they sleep with the head of the bed elevated or with extra pillows.

ENLARGED THYROID

Mrs. E. S. writes: Can a goiter come from aggravation?

REPLY

No. An iodine deficiency is responsible for endemic goiter but the exact cause of other types of thyroid enlargement is not known. All the glands of the body are in harmony and too much activity of one may affect the functioning of another. Overactivity of the pituitary, for example, may have a secondary effect on the thyroid.

BABY FOODS FOR OLDSTER

C. C. writes: If I eat a normal meal, I regurgitate. But when I use baby food, I don't. Is it safe for me to stay with these soft foods indefinitely? I'm 72.

REPLY

Yes, provided you consume a variety of foods. Why do you regurgitate?

QUAVERY SPEECH

Mrs. L. writes: What causes the voice to quiver while talking?

REPLY

Weakness, usually of the respiratory apparatus, which leads to a half-hearted vibration of the vocal cords. Defects of the larynx may do the same, including partial paralysis of the cords.

Sleeping Sickness Vaccine Is Tested

By Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Medical researchers report they have successfully immunized monkeys against the kind of encephalitis that wracked Houston, Tex., recently.

The head of the John Hopkins Hospital research team, Dr. Winston H. Price, declined to predict when a safe vaccine might be ready for human use. The new technique for immunizing primates involves a series of injections with a vaccine composed of relatively non-virulent second cousins of the encephalitis agents.

Currently, there is no vaccine or drug therapy against encephalitis, a series of virus infections passed to humans by mosquitoes or ticks. In Houston, health officials identified the disease as "St. Louis type" encephalitis transmitted by the culex mosquito. There are at least four other major types transmitted to man from blood-sucking insects around the world.

Infants and oldsters are particularly vulnerable to encephalitis — a brain inflammation that triggers high fever, drowsiness, headaches and nausea. It is sometimes fatal and survivors may sustain permanent brain damage. Though it is often called "sleeping sickness," the term actually applies to a completely different disease caused by a parasite harbored by the African tsetse fly.

Dr. Price said tests show a series of four shots—spaced over four months—immunizes spider monkeys for up to 18 months against 17 or 18 kinds of viruses carried by mosquitoes and ticks. These include St. Louis encephalitis, so named because of the epidemic that infected some 1,500 persons in the city in 1933 and 1937, four types of dengue fever, and Japanese B and Russian spring-summer encephalitis.

Scientists have tried vaccines against encephalitis previously. The national institutes of health here has licensed two trial types, though they are not commercially available.

A spokesman said trials with human volunteers have just about disproved the worth of so-called "killed" virus vaccines. These vaccines have just been unable to stimulate the kind of body defenses necessary to create immunity. Work is now under way at the University of Maryland medical school on an "attenuated" or weakened virus vaccine that may ultimately be tried on prisoner volunteers.

Dr. Price has devised a variation on the theme. It is spaced shots using much milder viruses that trigger the manufacture of antibodies against the main culprit, the encephalitis virus. The first vaccine ever used, the smallpox vaccine developed in 1796, used a similar technique.

The Johns Hopkins researcher has dubbed it "sequential immunization." In his tests, he used four "relatively non-virulent" viruses to protect against 18. He considers the four-month time-table a significant development.

Brain-fever made news in 1962 when an epidemic struck St. Petersburg, Fla., and then this year in Houston. Because it displays a spotty behavior, health officials have difficulty forecasting outbreaks.

Only this year, the communicable disease center, Atlanta, Ga., made it a reportable disease. Last week, the center said that there have been some 2,357 cases so far this year, widely scattered over the United States. Health officials recommend mosquito control as the soundest preventive.

(Approved by Governor July 18, 1963. Filed with Secretary of State July 19, 1963.)

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sec. 2. Part 5 (commencing with Section 35700) is added to Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

PART 5. DISCRIMINATION IN HOUSING

Chapter 1. Findings, Declaration Of Policy

35700. The practice of discrimination because of race, color, religion, national origin, or ancestry in housing accommodations is declared to be against public policy.

This part shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the State for the protection of the welfare, health, and peace of the people of this State.

Chapter 2. Definitions

(b) Which is constructed on land sold below cost by the State or any of its political subdivisions or any agency thereof, pursuant to the Federal Housing Act of 1949.

Public Land

(c) Which is constructed in whole or in part on property acquired or assembled by the State or any of its poltical subdivisions or any agency thereof through the power of condemnation or otherwise for the purpose of such construction.

Owner

4. The term "owner" includes the lessee, sublessee, assignee, managing agent, real estate broker or salesman, or any person having any legal or equitable right of ownership or possession or the right to rent or lease housing accommodations, and includes the State and any of its political subdivisions and any agency thereof.

The term "family" means either a person occupying a dwelling and maintaining a household, with not more than four boarders, roomers or lodgers, or two or more persons occupying a dwelling, living together and maintaining a common household with not more than four boarders, roomers or lodgers. A "boarder," "roomer" or "lodger" residing with a family means a person living within the household who pays a consideration for such residence and does not occupy such space within the household as an incident of employment therein.

Chapter 3. Discrimination Prohibited

35720. It shall be unlawful:

1. For the owner of any publicly assisted housing accommodation which is in, or to be used for, a multiple dwelling, with knowledge of such assistance, to refuse to sell, rent or lease or otherwise to deny to or withhold from any person or group of persons such housing accommodation because of the race, color, religion, national origin, or ancestry of such person or persons.

2. 6. Lending Institutions

7. For any person, bank, mortgage company or other financial institution to whom application is made for financial assistance for the purchase, organization, or construction of any housing accommodation to discriminate against any person or group of persons because of the race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry of such person or persons, or of prospective occupants or tenants, in the terms, conditions or privileges relating to the obtaining or use of any such financial assistance.

8. For any person to aid, abet, incite, compel or coerce the doing of any of the acts or practices declared unlawful in this section, or to attempt to do so.

Chapt. 4. Enforcement

35730. The State Fair Employment Practice Commission created by Section 1414 of the Labor Code is empowered to prevent violations of Section 35720, after a verified complaint has been filed with the commission pursuant to Section 35731.

35730.5. The commission, in connection with its functions under this part, shall have the following powers and duties:

(a) To meet and function at any place within the State.

Appoint Staff

(b) To appoint an attorney, and such clerks and other employees as it may deem necessary, fix their compensation within the limitations provided by law, and prescribe their duties.

(c) To obtain upon request and utilize the services of all governmental departments and agencies.

(d) To adopt, promulgate, amend, and rescind suitable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this part.

Check Complaints

(e) To receive, investigate and pass upon verified complaints alleging discrimination in housing accommodations, as defined in this part, because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

(f) To hold hearings, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, administer oaths, examine any person under oath and, in connection therewith, to require the production of any books or papers at such hearings relating to any matter under investigation or in question before the commission.

Advisory Groups

(g) To create such advisory agencies and conciliation councils, local or otherwise, as in its judgment will aid in effectuating the purposes of this part, and may empower them to study the problems of discrimination in all or specific fields of human relationships or in specific instances of discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry, and to foster, through community effort or otherwise, good will, co-operation, and conciliation among the groups and elements of the population of the State and to make recommendations to the commission for the development of policies and procedures in general. Such advisory agencies and conciliation councils shall be composed of representative citizens serving without pay.

Issue Reports

(h) To issue such publications and such results of investigations and research as in its judgment will tend to promote good will and minimize or eliminate discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry.

(i) To render annually to the Governor and biennially to the Legislature a written report of its activities and of its recommendations.

File Complaint

35731. Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged violation of Section 35720 may file with the commission a verified complaint in writing which shall state the name and address of the person alleged to have committed the violation complained of, and which shall set forth the particulars thereof and contain such other information as may be required by the commission. However, no such complaint may be made or filed unless the person claiming to be aggrieved waives any and all rights or claims that he may have under Section 52 of the Civil Code and signs a written waiver to that effect.

Within 60 Days

No complaint may be filed after the expiration of 60 days from the date upon which the alleged violation occurred. This period may be extended for not to exceed 60 days following the expiration of the initial 60 days, if a person allegedly aggrieved by such violation first obtained knowledge of the facts of such alleged violation after the expiration of the initial 60 days from date of its occurrence.

Take Action

The State Fair Employment Practice Commission may thereupon proceed upon such complaint in the same manner and with the same powers as provided in Part 4.5 (commencing with Section 1410) of Division 2 of the Labor Code in the case of an unlawful employment practice, and the provisions of that part which are not inconsistent with this part as to the powers, duties and rights of the State Fair Employment Practice Commission, its chairman, members, attorneys or agents, the complainant, the respondent, the Attorney General and the superior court, shall apply to any proceeding under the provisions of this section. However, Section 1430 of the Labor Code shall not apply to this part, and the Attorney General may not make, sign, or file a complaint under this part.

Conciliation

35732. (a) If such verified complaint alleges facts, directly or upon information and belief, sufficient to constitute a violation of any of the provisions of Section 35720, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner determines after preliminary investigation that probable cause exists for believing the allegations of the complaint, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the alleged unlawful practice by conference, conciliation, and persuasion.

Preliminary Check

(b) If, after the preliminary investigation, probable cause does not exist for believing the allegations of the complaint, the assigned commissioner shall dismiss the complaint. Notice of dismissal shall be sent to the respondent and the complainant by registered mail—return receipt requested and the complainant then shall have 15 days from the receipt day to file an appeal to the dismissal.

If the assigned commissioner fails to eliminate such alleged unlawful practice and believes probable cause still exists, he may issue and serve in the name of the commission, a written accusation together with a copy of such complaint, as the same may have been amended, requiring the owner named in such accusation, hereinafter referred to as "respondent," to answer the charges of such accusation at a hearing.

Procedure

The written accusation, hearings, and all matters pertaining thereto shall be in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commission shall have all the powers granted therein.

35733. After a verified complaint has been filed with the commission pursuant to Section 35731, and the preliminary investigation thereof has been carried out, or a 20-day period has elapsed from the filing of the verified complaint, if the preliminary investigation has not then been completed, an appropriate superior court may, upon the motion of the respondent, order the commission to give to the respondent, within a specified time, a copy of any book, document, or paper, or any entries therein, in the possession or under the control of the commission, containing evidence relating to the merits of the verified complaint, or to a defense thereto. The commission shall comply with such an order.

Court Action

35734. The commission, at any time after a complaint is filed with it and it has been determined that probable cause exists for believing that the allegations of the complaint are true and constitute a violation of this part, may bring an action in the superior court to enjoin the owner of the property from taking further action with respect to the rental, lease, or sale of the property until the commission has completed its investigation and made its determination; but a temporary restraining order obtained under this section shall not, in any event, be in effect for more than 20 days. In such action an order or judgment may be entered awarding such temporary restraining order or such preliminary or final injunction in accordance with Section 527 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

No Disclosure

35735. All matters connected with any conference, conciliation, or persuasion efforts under this part are privileged and may not be received in evidence. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose to any person what has transpired in the course of such endeavors to conciliate. Every member of the commission or its staff who discloses information in violation of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. Such disclosure by an employee subject to civil service shall be cause for disciplinary action under the State Civil Service Act.

35736. When an owner is contacted by the commission, a commissioner, or a member of the commission's staff, he shall be informed whether the contact is for the purpose of investigation or conference, conciliation, or persuasion; and if it is for conference, conciliation, or persuasion, he shall be informed that all matters relating thereto are privileged.

Notice To Owner

35737. The commission shall without undue delay cause a copy of the verified complaint that has been filed under the provisions of this part to be served upon or mailed to the owner alleged to have committed the violation complained of.

35738. If the commission finds that a respondent has engaged in any unlawful practice as defined in this part, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such practice and to take one of the following affirmative actions, as, in the judgment of the commission will effectuate the purpose of this part:

Sale Or Rental

(1) The sale or rental of the housing accommodation to the aggrieved person, if it is still available.

(2) The sale or rental of a like accommodations, if one is available, or the next vacancy in a like accommodation.

(3) The payment of damages to the aggrieved person in an amount not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), if the commission determines that neither of the remedies under (1) or (2) is available.

The commission may require a report of the manner of compliance.

Dismissal

If the commission finds that a respondent has not engaged in any practice which constitutes a violation of this part, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the said accusation as to such respondent. A copy of its order shall be delivered in all cases to the Attorney General and such other public officers as the commission deems proper.

Any order issued by the commission shall have printed on its face references to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act which prescribe the rights of appeal of any party to the proceeding to whose position the order is adverse.

Chapter 5. Miscellaneous

35740. Nothing contained in this part shall be deemed to repeal any of the provisions of any other law of this State relating to discrimination because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

35741. Nothing in this part shall be construed to affect the title or other interest of a person who purchases, leases, or takes an encumbrance on a housing accommodation in good faith and without knowledge that the owner or lessor of the property has violated any provision of this part.

35742. Nothing contained in this part shall be construed to prohibit selection based upon factors other than race, color, religion, national origin, or ancestry.

Other Laws

35743. As it is the intention of the Legislature to occupy the whole field of regulation encompassed by the provisions of this part, the regulation by law of discrimination in housing contained in this part shall be exclusive of all other laws banning discrimination in housing by any city, city and county, county, or other political subdivision of the State. Nothing contained in this part shall be construed to, in any manner or way, limit or restrict the application of Section 51 of the Civil Code.

35744. The provisions of this part shall be liberally construed for the purpose of effectuating the public policy contained herein.

SEC. 3. Section 1414 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

Sets Commission

1414. There is in the Division of Fair Employment Practices the State Fair Employment Practice Commission. Such commission shall consist of seven members, to be known as commissioners, who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and one of whom shall be designated as chairman by the Governor. The term of office of each member of the commission shall be for four years; provided, however, that of the commissioners first appointed, two shall be appointed for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, one for a term of three years, and one for a term of four years. The term of office of each member of the commission appointed pursuant to the 1963 amendments to this section shall also be for four years; provided, however, that of the two commissioners first appointed pursuant to the said amendments one shall be appointed for a term which shall expire September 18, 1966, and one for a term which shall expire September 18, 1967.

Empowered

SEC. 4. Section 1419.5 is added to the Labor Code, to read:

1419.5. The commission is empowered to prevent discrimination in housing as provided in Part 5 (commencing with Section 35700) of Division 24 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 5. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

Proposition 14

"SALES AND RENTALS OF RESIDENTIAL REAL PROPERTY. INITIATIVE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT. Prohibits State, subdivision, or agency thereof from denying, limiting, or abridging right of any person to decline to sell, lease or rent residential real property to any person as he chooses. Prohibition not applicable to property owned by State or its subdivisions; property acquired by eminent domain; or transient lodging accommodations by hotels, and similar public places."

The People of the State of California do enact the following constitutional amendment to be added as Section 26 of Article I, of the Constitution of the State of California:

Neither the State nor any subdivision or agency thereof shall deny, limit or abridge, directly or indirectly, the right of any person, who is willing or desires to sell, lease or rent any part or all of his real property, to decline to sell, lease or rent such property to such person or persons as he, in his absolute discretion, chooses.

"Persons" includes individuals, partnerships, corporations and other legal entities and their agents or representatives but does not include the State or any subdivision thereof with respect to the sale, lease or rental of property owned by it.

"Real property" consists of any interest in real property of any kind or quality, present or future, irrespective of how obtained or financed, which is used, designed, constructed, zoned or otherwise devoted to or limited for residential purposes whether as a single family dwelling or as a dwelling for two or more persons or families living together or independently of each other.

This Article shall not apply to the obtaining of property by eminent domain pursuant to Article 1, Sections 14 and 14½, of this Constitution, nor to the renting or providing of any accommodations for lodging purposes by a hotel, motel or other similar public place engaged in furnishing lodging to transient guests.

If any part or provision of this Article, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the Article, including the application of such part or provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby and shall continue in full force and effect. To this end, the provisions of this Article are severable.

Students Pushing Concerns–Kerr

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Student mob action such as that on the Berkeley campus last week indicate students are more active than ever in "pushing their concerns," Dr. Clark Kerr, University of California president, said yesterday.

At a press conference prior to a Town Hall talk, Kerr said the Berkeley incident reflected major changes in college-level student bodies everywhere and such incidents probably will recur.

San Rafael High Float Plans Told

San Rafael High School's Pep Club has announced the theme of its float for the school's homecoming parade, Nov. 13.

Exhorting the Bulldog football squad to "exterminate the Novato Hornets," the float will be constructed on a flatbed truck, with a huge stuffed bulldog operating an insect spray gun against a hive of hornets. The float will also bear symbols of San Rafael's homecoming victories of former years over the Marin Catholic and Sir Francis Drake teams. Aboard the truck will be the Bulldogs' yell leaders, song leaders and bulldog-costumed "mascot," Lance Cox.

Three-Way Fruit Salad

ONE BASIC recipe offers three tasty fruit salad variations. Instant no fat dry milk adds fluffiness to make a smooth Fruit Salad Dressing which can be made into a 24-hour salad or frozen salad. Starting with the same basic recipe, you can create a Fluffy Fruit Dressing to serve over a variety of fruits, or use the dressing as a main ingredient in a salad.

Salads are fun for everyone, so it's always a pleasure to discover a new, appealing salad recipe to serve a crowd. Here's one that's not only delicious and refreshing, but also versatile. It's a three-way recipe for Fluffy Fruit Salad Dressing one you'll serve often. The recipe can also be made in half to serve the family.

STARTING WITH the same basic recipe, you can create a Fluffy Fruit Dressing to serve over a variety of fruits, or use the dressing as a main ingredient in a Fluffy 24-Hour Fruit Salad or Frozen Fruit Salad. Whichever combination you choose, the result is luscious. Lemon and orange juice give it a light, citrusy flavor, and instant nonfat dry milk adds substance and fluffiness.

If you've never tried whipping instant nonfat dry milk you'll be amazed at the way it fluffs up into snowy white mounds. When you sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk over water or fruit juice in equal proportions to the liquid, it triples in volume when whipped. Beat it until it forms stiff, snow-white peaks. The citrus juices add a piquant flavor and help stabilize the whip.

TO TRANSFORM the dressing into a 24-hour salad or Fluffy Fruit Salad, add 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin, and after folding in the whipped nonfat dry milk, add fresh or canned fruits to taste. Use any combination of fruits in season, and chill the salad several hours or overnight to let the flavors blend. Frozen Fruit Salad also combines the dressing with diced fresh or canned fruits, to be frozen in your refrigerator trays. Enjoy one . . . two . . . three salads from the same delightful recipe.

FLUFFY FRUIT SALAD DRESSING
Yield: 5 cups

2 eggs
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup orange juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
⅔ cup instant nonfat dry milk
⅔ cup cold water

In a small saucepan mix together eggs, sugar and orange juice. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened; blend in lemon juice and orange rind. Cool. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water and beat until stiff peaks form; fold in fruit juice mixture. Serve over fruit salads. Dressing will keep several hours (covered and refrigerated).

VARIATIONS

FLUFFY FRUIT SALAD: Yield: 2½ quarts (approx. 10 servings)

Follow directions for Dressing except sprinkle 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin over lemon juice to soften; add to cooked orange juice mixture along with orange rind, stirring well to dissolve. When ready to fold mixture into whipped nonfat dry milk, also add 6 cups diced fresh and well-drained canned fruits. Chill several hours, or overnight before serving.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD: 10-12 servings

Following directions for Dressing but add 5 cups diced fresh and well-drained canned fruits when folding mixture into whipped nonfat dry milk. Turn into 2 refrigerator trays, cover well and freeze. When ready to serve, let stand at room temperature 5-10 minutes before cutting into squares or pie-shaped wedges. Serve on salad greens.

NOTE: One fruit combination might include pears, oranges, grapes, bananas, dates and pineapple. Try other combinations, depending on fruits in season, interesting color and flavor combinations.

GREEN PEPPERS FRANCES

4 large (1 pound) green peppers
⅓ cup sugar
⅓ cup distilled white vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
6 whole cloves and 6 whole allspice

Wash, quarter and seed peppers; with a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, remove skins. In a saucepan, cover peppers with cold water; bring quickly to a boil; boil 5 minutes and drain. In a small saucepan over low heat, stir together the sugar, vinegar, salt, cloves and allspice until sugar dissolves and mixture is very hot; pour over peppers. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Cardamom Cookies Are Unique

Scandinavian cooks have their own special ways with cookies.

They make up a white cookie dough rich in eggs, cut it into strips, cut a slit in the center of each strip and slip one end through the slit. Then they fry these half-bows in deep fat and give them a dusting of confectioners sugar.

When these cooks bake cookies from their favorite rich vanilla dough, they are likely to mold it into pretzel or crescent shapes. They also favor "wreaths" — rolling the dough into short lengths about as thick as a pencil, overlapping the two ends and decorating with candied cherries.

When they add nuts to cookies, they are likely to choose almonds.

For other cookie flavoring, Scandinavian cooks may use browned butter and cardamom, as in the following recipe. If you like a cookie that is on the dry side, you may wish to try this rule.

SCANDINAVIAN COOKIES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon ground cardamom
¾ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup finely chopped almonds

Sift together the flour, baking powder and cardamom.

Melt the butter and cook until lightly browned. Separate the oil from the solids by pouring off the oil into a bowl. Cool.

Beat together the cooled oil (from the butter) and the sugar. Thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in the almonds. Stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended.

Drop by level tablespoonfuls, at least 2 inces apart, onto buttered cookie sheets. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 18 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove to wire racks to cool. Store in a tightly covered container. Makes about 3 dozen.

These cookies may be made with self-rising flour; in this case omit the baking powder called for.

The almonds used in the cookies do not have to be blanched.

Mushroom Chicken Mixed With Cheese

Mushroom Chicken with Noodles
Cooked Vegetable Salad
Fresh Pear Pie with Cheese

MUSHROOM CHICKEN

1 can (6 ounces) sliced broiled mushrooms
Chicken broth (see Note)
⅓ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup flour
¼ pound processed sharp cheddar cheese, diced
Cooked chicken (see Note)
4 ounces wide noodles, cooked
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Drain mushroom liquid into a measure and add enough chicken broth to make 2 cups. In a saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in flour. Add broth mixture; cook and stir constantly until thickened and boiling; simmer for several minutes stirring a few times. Remove from heat; stir in cheddar cheese until melted. Mix with mushrooms, chicken and noodles. Turn into a 1½-quart casserole or six 8-ounce baking dishes. Sprinkle with Parmesan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbling hot — 25 minutes for large casserole and 15 minutes for small dishes. Brown under broiler. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For chicken and broth simmer a large broiler-fryer with 1 pint water, 1 cup diced carrot, 2 quartered medium onions, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 branch parsley and ¼ teaspoon thyme until tender—about 40 minutes. Strain broth. Discard skin and bones from chicken and cut into strips.

Serve A Different Variety Of Frozen Breads, Rolls

Clover Leaf, pan rolls, bowknots, butterflake, crescents, braids, bread sticks — which are your favorite? Serve a different variety every day; they are a snap to make with frozen ready to bake bread which is readily available at your local market.

To make a frozen loaf into rolls, remove it from the package. Let loaf thaw, at room temperature about an hour, or in refrigerator 8 to 10 hours, until easy to shape. Keep loaf moist while thawing by spreading the surface with melted butter or shortening or covering with a moist cloth. Shape into your favorite rolls. Let rise and bake as usual. A one pound loaf makes 14 to 20 rolls; bakes best at 375° to 400°F for about 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown.

Wheat N'White Clover Leaf rolls served hot with butter are irresistible! Simple to make, just combine honey wheat n' white frozen ready to bake bread.

WHEAT N'WHITE CLOVER LEAF

1 loaf (1 lb) white frozen ready to bake bread
1 loaf (1 lb.) honey wheat Brigford frozen ready to bake bread

Remove frozen ready to bake loaves from the package and let thaw. Cut and shape each loaf into about 40 small balls (this is easily accomplished by cutting each loaf into quarters then each quarter into 10 pieces) Place 3 small balls for each roll in well greased small muffin pans. (Use 2 balls wheat and 1 white or 2 balls white and 1 wheat for each roll). Let rise in a warm place until doubled or tripled in volume. Bake 400°F about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Turn out on rack to cool. Yield: about 28 rolls.

Crispy Cheese Sticks are fun to do. The thinner you roll 'em, the crisper they'll be. Do not let them rise; they're quick as a "wink."

CRISPY CHEESE STICKS

1 loaf (1 lb.) white frozen ready to bake bread
1 egg, slightly beaten with fork
1 tablespoon cream or milk
⅔ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1½ tablespoons caraway seeds

Let loaf soften at room temperature (1 hr. or more). Cut loaf in quarters; cut each quarter in about 15 pieces. Roll each into a thin pencil-like piece about 7" long and ½" thick (the thinner they are, the crisper they will be). Mix egg and cream or milk. Dip each stick into egg mixture, then into the cheese which has been mixed with the caraway seed. Place on greased cookie sheet. Do Not Let Rise; Bake 400°F about 12 minutes. Cool on rack. Yield: 60 thin sticks.

CRISPY BREAD STICKS

For plain bread sticks: omit egg, cream or milk, cheese, and caraway seed in recipe for Crispy Cheese Sticks.

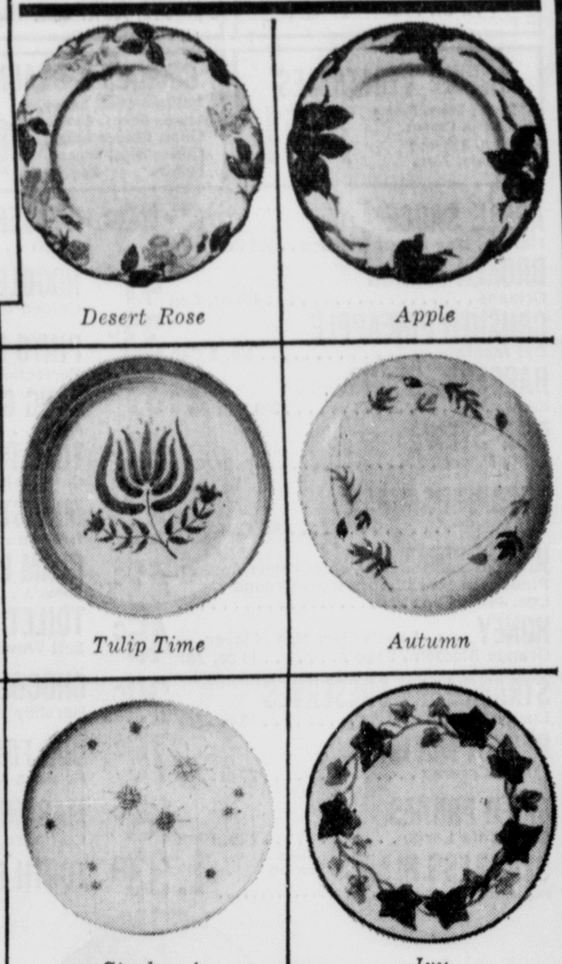

WHEAT N'WHITE Clover Leaf rolls served hot with butter are irresistible. Simple to make, just combine honey wheat n'white frozen ready to bake bread. Crispy cheese sticks are fun to do too.

Portable Classes No 'Hardship'

Students Find Them A Luxury

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The "hardship" of portable classrooms at San Rafael High School and two city elementary schools has become a luxury for students.

The reason: The portables have air conditioning; the regular classrooms do not.

"It's a temporary luxury," District Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte said today. He explained that the seven classrooms at the high school will be there only during the construction era that will last about two years.

The San Rafael Board of Education, he explained, has not considered air conditioning a necessity in Marin County. Students, however, have found it very easy to get used to, particularly during the past few, hot weeks.

The board decided on use of portables after much soul-searching. The fear was that the temporary quarters would raise difficulties. The difficulties did not arise, however.

"Everybody I have talked to likes them," Condrotte said, "including the teachers."

In addition to air conditioning, the portables have good lighting from plastic diffusion panels in the ceiling. They are well soundproofed, with walls of 1½-inch plywood.

The cost of the portables is less than the standard price of permanent classrooms. The ones in use by the district, made by American Modulux Co. of Hayward, sell for $12,000.

It costs from $14,000 to $16,000 to build a permanent, non-air-conditioned classroom, Condrotte said. This, however, includes such things as covered walks and landscaping and administrative units, he reported.

The high school district is leasing the seven classrooms now in use on the campus for $3,100 per year each.

The elementary school district purchased four classrooms and leased one.

Four of these are in use at Davidson High School; one is for a mentally-retarded class there. A fifth is located at Coleman School for use of a first grade.

All but two at the high school have air conditioning. Condrotte said the correct power connection was not available to run the air conditioners on these two units.

Portables will be in use during this school year at the high school while a new library and 34 classrooms are under construction. They will probably also be needed next year when the old main building is refurbished.

So students will have to "endure" the portables at least two years, but no one is complaining.

He Quits Bootleg Whisky At 92

FRESNO (UPI)—A 92-year-old Bakersfield man assured a federal court judge Monday that he was through with bootleg whisky and was sentenced to a three-year suspended prison term and put on probation for three years.

Otis Sledge pleaded guilty to possessing 14 gallons of still-made whisky when federal and local agents arrested him in his Bakersfield home. Federal District Court Judge M. D. Crocker asked him if he had learned his lesson and Sledge assured him he had.

"Through," he said. "I'm through with all those things."

Three other bootlegging charges were dismissed.

Booklet Tells Of Propositions

"Pros and Cons," a booklet describing the 17 state ballot measures to be voted on Nov. 3, is being sold throughout Marin by the League of Women Voters.

Available in comprehensive form for 60 cents, and in a four-page capsule form for five cents, the booklet describes each proposition, then lists principal arguments for and against.

Further information is available from Mrs. Richard L. Ocheltree of San Rafael, the league's voters' service chairman.

Black Faces Popping Up In Offices Around Nation

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.
(Ninth in a series)

YOUNG

American business is undergoing a quiet but spectacular civil rights revolution of its own.

Black and brown faces are popping up in offices where once the only Negro swung a mop. Their pictures—side by side with white co-workers—are becoming common on the covers of industrial house organs and trade journals. And the help wanted columns are filled with ads carrying the tagline, "This company is an equal opportunities employer."

Many employers are scouting Negro colleges for promising graduates. Others are starting to pour dollars and endowments into them with the same gusto as Ivy League schools. Still others are setting up earn-and-learn courses under the auspices of the Federal Manpower Development and Retraining Act (MDTA) to help develop critically-needed talent.

At last report, 269 of the largest corporations had inked the president's "Plans for Progress" pact, a voluntary declaration of their intent to make merit employment a way of life. The list reads like a "Who's Who" among blue chip corporations.

Some may profess these strides were inspired by the threat of selective buying campaigns or by passage of the Civil Rights Act, having a fair employment practices commission that will open shop next summer. But for many industries, transformation began a decade ago, long before the picketing and boycotts.

For some companies, the decision to integrate was a moral choice. For others, it was hard, economic necessity in the intensified search for the best brains. In most cases, it was a combination of all plus the idea of fair play.

Of course, some of the biggest concerns haven't yet gotten off the ground. But most have made a start. Only a few reluctant companies, generally on the smaller side, still look to the past. But these are exceptions to the rule.

"If I wasn't qualified," I remember a tearful Ivy League honor graduate telling me a decade ago when I headed the Urban League in Omaha, "I could study harder. If I lacked culture, I could visit the art galleries. But I've been hired a dozen times over the phone and turned down every time I walked in the door. It's my color; I can't wash it off."

Today, rival companies would fight to land a Negro of his caliber. Some, unrealistically, ask our "Skills Bank" for "a dozen qualified engineers" as though they could find any, white, black, or yellow.. "Instant Negro" scientists don't come by adding water and mixing.

Companies which aren't just kidding will make up for past exclusion policies by training engineers and technicians under MDTA or other arrangements. They will sponsor scholarships, and do all things necessary to make up for the past. These firms, in their quest for the finest minds, will outpace their competitors if they attempt to meet Negro youngsters half way.

Their special effort, of course, must be met by an all-out effort by Negro youngsters to learn and train for the new opportunities. They must march to the libraries and the museums and the places of culture. Given a fair chance in the classroom, I believe they will rise to the challenge, as Americans generally do.

Alto Sanitary Board Recommends Study

Alto Sanitary District directors Monday night recommended that a study be made for a proposed Richardson Bay Sanitary District, Director William P. Stickney reported. The problem cannot be solved by one sanitary district, directors agreed.

Representatives of sanitary districts in Southern Marin plus the City of Mill Valley met Aug. 26 to seek support for a county-wide study of sanitary districts.

Birch Leader Says 'We Mean Business'

The John Birch Society operates as a monolithic, authoritarian body, with Robert Welch at the head.

The Society's Blue Book outlines the type of discipline expected of all members.

On discussions and free speech, the Birch leader has this comment:

"We are not going to have factions developing on the two-sides-to-every-question theme. Those members who cease to feel the necessary degree of loyalty can either resign or will be put out before they build up any splintering following of their own inside the Society. As I have said, we mean business every step of the way. We can allow for differences of opinion. We shall need and welcome advice. And we expect to use the normal measure of diplomacy always called for in dealing with human beings. But whenever differences of opinion become translated into lack of loyal support, we shall have short cuts for eliminating both without going through any congress of so-called democratic processes."

When a new member applies for membership, he agress "that my membership may be revoked at anytime, by a duly appointed officer of the Society, without the reason being stated."

Mr. Welch is the ruler, his area coordinators are subordinates, and on the local level:

"Each will have a chapter leader, appointed by headquarters, which is in Belmont, Mass., or appointed through officers of the Society, in the field, who have themselves been duly appointed by headquarters."

In other words, the chain of command is hand picked.

There is indication he would like to see the Society extended to other countries. Welch writes, at one point:

"I think that a million members is all we would want, at least in the United States."

The Society considers itself already at war with the "communist conspiracy." What are some of the targets?

"First must come a complete repudiation of Eisenhower as a Republican political force. Second must come a repudiation of those Eisenhower Republicans—like Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California and Gov. (Mark) Hatfield of Oregon . . ."

And the Birch Bulletins hammer away at such themes as:

"Impeach Earl Warren."

"Get U.S. Out of the U.N."

"Civil Rights Bill—this bill is, in fact, the first great legislative step leading directly towards the imposition of Communist police-state controls over the American people."

We seriously doubt that you would last very long in the Birch Society if you were to insist that Chief Justice Warren not be impeached, that we stay in the U.N., and that the Civil Rights bill was great legislation.

Nor can we imagine for a moment that Mr. Welch, who has described General Eisenhower as a "stooge of the communist conspiracy," would give space in his Birch Bulletin for a dissenting article in praise of President Eisenhower, an opinion perfectly acceptable to millions of non-communist Americans.

No, we still maintain that members of the Birch Society are not "free Americans, like all others." They are "free" only to echo and repeat commandments from headquarters, and to venture opinions only at the sufferance of headquarters.

That "freedom" would end the moment Mr. Welch or his representative decided a member lacked "the necessary degree of loyalty."

"YOU IMPLYING IT'S POLITICALLY INSPIRED?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Cicero As Source Of Barry Phrase

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In citing a phrase of Cicero's, quoted almost verbatim at the GOP Convention by Senator Goldwater, Miss Taylor Caldwell, the novelist, may be paying tribute to the zeal of Barry's spook writers; but, in a way, it figures. Almost every political sophistry ever heard of will be encountered soon or late in the old Roman spellbinder's writings or utterances. Their sincerity may be judged by his remark during his defense of Aulus Cluentius ("Pro Cluentio"): "It is a great mistake to suppose that statements in my speeches express my real opinions."

. . . In closing his last oration against Catiline, he exhorted his hearers in the famous plea beginning: "...for such heroic labors, Citizens, I demand no recognition of courage, no badge of honor, no monument of praise, but only the everlasting memory of this day!"

Clearly, no shrinking violet was old Kick!

Animal Kingdom And Segregation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Just read "fourth of a series" of articles by Whitney M. Young, Jr., re "Segregated Zoo." Just how far are writers going to instill ill feelings among people? He writes that the "real zoo is integrated"—yes, a sort of Proposition 14 inflicted on the animals — whereas, left in their natural habitat they would seek each other out, mate, and raise their young ones according to their own inherent rules. . . . "Authors see different colored animals, but not people." . . . And so do the animals see and mate with their own color — if not, what a crazy, mixed-up zoo. . . . I'd say that perhaps it might be well if we humans patterned our lives more closely to that of the animal kingdom. . . .

And the reference to a "nanny" servant chaperoning a little white girl to the zoo with a polka dot bandanna wrapped 'round her head. Well, those same little white girls are now sporting the bandanna. . . .

I don't recall ever seeing Negroes pictured in biblical scenes either—doesn't he want to make an issue of that . . . ?

Commentary On Republican Rift

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Wat Takeshita was 100 per cent correct when he said there seems to be a deep rift in the San Rafael TARs. The fact is we have half the members we had last year. When so-called right-winger Bruce Proctor was narrowly elected president, all the moderates and liberals walked out. Then Proctor turned moderate and all the right-wingers walked out. The San Rafael TARs is now composed of people who don't quite know what they are, where they are, or what they are doing.

Immigration Quota Figures Disputed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Whether it is to be "No, No, No!" or Yes, Yes, Yes! on the proposed immigration legislation which is the subject of V. A. Cochran in his letter published Oct. 1, let us get the facts straight! He states that our present Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 allows "about 340,000 immigrants per year to enter this country." . . . The correct yearly quota is about 156,987.

The new immigration legislation before Congress is no "dastardly plot," as alleged by Mr. Cochran. In the hearings . . . Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz assured the committee that the proposed changes would not have an adverse effect on the labor market in the United States. He also said, "Under the present law, approximately 8,600 quota immigrants entering the labor market are craftsmen, foremen and kindred workers. The proposed revision would bring this category up to about 13,800." . . . Secretary of State Dean Rusk . . . said . . . "the primary objective (of the old law) was to maintain the ethnic balance among the American population as it existed in 1920. . . . This results in discrimination to different nationalities in a world situation which is quite different from that which existed (in 1920)."

. . . The bill under discussion retains a ceiling of approximately 165,000 quota numbers (not the 1 million stated by Mr. Cochran).

I would like to know where Mr. Cochran obtained his fantastic statistics regarding the alleged hundreds of thousands of Chinese, Africans and Russians that would be allowed to "flood our labor market, etc."

Other similar bills will undoubtedly be introduced in the 89th Congress. . . . The Saturday Evening Post for Oct. 3, 1964, has an excellent article on this subject.

Rumford Act Can Protect Values

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I intend to vote against Proposition 14 for quite mercenary, not altruistic reasons. . . . The Rumford Law, despite its shortcomings . . . is necessary and just. . . . The economic effects of the Rumford Law . . . will work to the benefit of a home owner. I reason this way.

When a Negro moves into a formerly all-white neighborhood, it is not his presence which depresses the value of the near-by properties, it is the workings of supply and demand when many similar properties in a small area are put on the market at the same time. . . .

In short, if the prospect of another all-white neighborhood somewhere is removed, this type of "panic-selling" would have no point, the racket of the cynical "block-busters" would be ruined. . . .

As to the danger of getting black trash neighbors . . . by and large, the trash of either race cannot afford the price of a good neighborhood.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Goldwater Credited With New GOP Support For Atlantic Unity

WASHINGTON—At a crucial point Sen. Barry Goldwater is making a most constructive contribution to foreign policy. He is doing this by aligning his leadership of the Republican Party on the side of strengthening the NATO alliance politically as well as militarily and by supporting the goal of greater Atlantic unification.

The significance of Mr. Goldwater's strong advocacy is not that President Lyndon B. Johnson in any way disbelieves in NATO but that the administration has been hesitant to take action to strengthen Atlantic unity until Western Europe achieves full-bodied federation.

THE SPECIAL VALUE of Senator Goldwater's support for new U.S. initiative is that it significantly opens the way to enlisting the conservative Right in the Senate where, only four years ago, the Republicans (among them Goldwater) voted 2 to 1 against as much as exploring greater Atlantic unity.

The switch of the Republican presidential nominee from being a past critic of NATO to unqualified advocate, intent upon furthering its greater unification, is the most significant development of the campaign.

Clarence K. Streit, founder of Federal Union, Inc., and editor of Freedom & Union, devotes nearly all of the September issue of his magazine to expounding the position of the two candidates on NATO. He makes some revealing comments.

"IN THE REPUBLICAN Party the Atlantic idea has made truly astonishing progress," he says. "Their 1964 plank, it must be said . . . is by far the strongest that either party platform has thus far ever had.

"Never before has either formally declared the strengthening of NATO to be a 'keystone' of its foreign policy. Nor has either ever before committed itself, as has the GOP now, to convoke a high-level 'international commission' — the equivalent of the blue-ribbon Atlantic Convention we have urged for 25 years—'to explore and recommend effective new ways to strengthen Alliance participation and fulfillment.'"

On Senator Goldwater's own stand, Mr. Streit writes:

"The extreme nationalists in the Goldwater camp and his extreme critics in the other who seem convinced that he is dominated by 'isolationists,' 'Birchers' and 'fascists,' or is one of them himself, have one thing in common besides their lack of moderation. They have been dumbfounded alike by the senator's Atlantic stand. It is so strongly contrary to the view each of these groups has of him that it is understandable they have all been struck dumb."

Goldwater, while warmly welcoming the Streit article, is astonished at its tone of astonishment.

"THERE SEEMS TO BE a thread of amazement," he writes to Streit, "that I could have taken the stand I did at the convention, or that the Republican Party would have done so. This has been my position for quite a few years and I have expressed myself on it many, many times, so I am a little surprised that this position surprises others."

Many Goldwater supporters are delighted to see this emphasis of the senator's strong NATO position in an independent magazine which does not engage in partisan politics. Former Rep. Walter H. Judd, for example — himself a Goldwater campaigner — is sending copies to all 2,600 delegates and alternates to the San Francisco convention and to all Republican candidates for senator, congressman and governor. He points out in a personal letter that, while Senator Goldwater does not advocate Atlantic federation, he (Goldwater) does contend "that to win without war we must unite the Atlantic community effectively."

This has long been the stand of the Republican moderates and has long met the opposition of the Republican conservatives in the Senate.

IF ANYONE CAN open the minds of the conservative Right to the realization that a more united Atlantic community can be the greatest source of strength to the free world, it is Senator Goldwater.

FARM PROBLEM, PART III

Mechanization Due Too Late To Assist Many Top State Crops

(Last in a three part series on the future of farm labor in California, in light of a recent report by the University of California and recent comments of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.)

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
Capitol News Service

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There's little chance that the barrier of mechanization for California farm crop harvest can be broken in the near future and no chance at all it will come soon enough to reduce supplemental and temporary labor needs for the 1965 season.

THIS DISCOURAGING, but not unexpected, news was part of a report just released by the University of California on the impact of elimination of the bracero program for importing Mexican farm labor. The law authorizing the program expires Dec. 31, with little or no hope of its revival.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, among his many statements on the farm labor situation in recent weeks, had predicted mechanization would solve all the problems of labor shortage in a few years, "and there'll be no need of any foreign importation of labor."

The university report is not nearly so optimistic as the governor. Of the crops that make heavy use of braceros at present, only canning tomatoes appear to have prospects of mechanical harvest by 1970.

It has required development of new varieties of tomatoes—primarily those which produced tomatoes which ripened at about the same time.

Another crop which utilizes many braceros is strawberries. So far, machines have been developed only to help get workers down the rows.

In 1963, peak employment of Mexican nationals for strawberries was 10,760.

Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon (R-Paso Robles), whose resolution authorized the university study, concluded from the report only tomato harvesting would be mechanized by 1969.

"THE PROSPECTS for mechanization in four other crops—sugar beets (thinning), snap beans, cotton (weeding) and celery—are reported as much less favorable," Sturgeon said, "and in the remaining seven heavily bracero-dependent crops — strawberries, lettuce, asparagus, melons, oranges, grapes and lemons—no chance is seen that machines will significantly replace human hands."

Curtailment of planting of crops which now depend on braceros next year could have far-reaching effects on associated industries, the university report emphasized.

In 1963, workers in packing and processing plants received 1.4 billion dollars in wages. During the same year, workers on all California farms received 644 million dollars, of which only 73 million dollars went to foreign contract workers. Thus the bracero payroll — amounting to only 3.5 per cent of the total for farms, packing and processing plants and 11.3 per cent of the on-farm payroll—could touch off a chain reaction if it is removed and the crops are not produced.

The university estimated that, for every person employed on a farm in California, 2.61 jobs in related industries are produced. It noted that the total canning tomato industry in 1963 amounted to about 300 million dollars. But, of this total, only 88 million dollars went for the growers, for farm labor, interest, taxes and other factors, not to mention capital expenses.

ON THE OTHER HAND, in 1963 tomato processors spent 70 million dollars for metal containers, 11 million dollars for glass containers, 1.8 million dollars for caps and lids, 12 million dollars for cartons, and 6 million dollars for labels. Truckers received 21.8 million dollars for hauling tomatoes to packing plants and 32 million dollars was spent to ship the packed product.

THAT TALENTED crooner, Tony Bennett, is worried lest the telephone company's craving for code area numbers seeps over into the field of popular songs. Even now Tony can envisage the day when he will be requested to render a chorus or two of "Moon Over 305," "312, 312, That Wonderful Town," "Shuffle Off to 716," "Way Down Yonder in 504," or "I Left My Heart in 415."

Phone buffs will know that 305 is the code area number for Miami, 312 for Chicago, 716 for Buffalo, 504 for New Orleans, and 415 for San Francisco.

POET JOHN CIARDI cherishes this note received from a young admirer, whose name he thoughtfully refuses to disclose: "Dear Mr. Ciardi: I think your new book of poems for children is very funny. I read it in church. I thought it was much better than the sermon. P.S. Please don't tell my daddy about the sermon because he's the minister."

OVERHEARD: Offstage at a Broadway hit: "I'm not saying he's an ego-maniac, but he won't take a hot shower because it clouds the mirror."

At a cocktail party, "Every time I turned around he was kissing my wife, so I stopped turning around."

McNamara Slashes Military Budgets

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The Defense Department's own confidential report clearly backs up GOP challenger Barry Goldwater's campaign charge that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is cutting back on essential defense programs.

AS PREPARED FOR the Senate Armed Services Committee, the three military services' unpublished cutback list reveals that Secretary McNamara slashed more than 2 billion dollars from their priority weapons systems request during 1964.

The report shows Secretary McNamara ordering drastic cutbacks in Army production plans for the M-60 tank, M-113 armored personnel carrier, OH (13-23) helicopter and a new anti-tank weapon, while President Lyndon B. Johnson was hailing the administration's build-up of "limited war" forces.

Secretary McNamara's cutbacks in high-priority Navy projects were even more drastic. Funds requested to modernize the fleet were cut almost in half.

With one mighty stroke of his pen, McNamara sank the Navy's request of 410.5 million dollars for another nuclear-powered attack carrier, while ordering the admirals to develop a new, restricted role for these giants of the seas.

UNDER THIS NEW concept, the Navy's huge attack ships will have a lesser part to play in any general nuclear war, but their application in limited warfare will be increased slightly.

McNamara's economy blockbuster also wreaked havoc with the Navy's secret plans to modernize and expand its communications system throughout the seven seas.

The Air Force's strategic missile and tactical aircraft weapons systems suffered substantial cutback from McNamara's economy wave.

DESPITE HIS 1963 promise to push research on the effects Soviet super-bombs would have on U.S. missile reliability, Secretary McNamara shelved the Air Force's request for 12.5 million dollars to get this program off the ground.

According to Defense Department insiders, these defense project cutbacks are just a starter.

After the November election, they forecast that Secretary McNamara will announce reductions in defense spending totaling nearly 4 billion dollars for the coming year.

Hardest hit will be the naval shipyards. Plans are being made, despite Pentagon denials, to phase out all work in Navy facilities in Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Boston over a period of three years.

Reductions of more than 50,000 in U.S. forces overseas also will be announced by McNamara after the election if President Johnson wins.

Fairfax Women's Club Is Real Lesson In Grass-Roots Politics

THE THREE "ROOKIES" on the Fairfax City Council got a real lesson in grass-roots politics the other night when they sat in the Fairfax Women's Club building and tried to peek through the loopholes of the club's 99-year lease.

Looking closely over their shoulders were many of the clubwomen themselves, who meet regularly there but seldom show up at council sessions.

The ladies, who failed to realize how slow the wheels of government usually creak, turned out in force because they feared the council was about to re-write the lease right then and there.

EXCEPT FOR ONE early legal battle, the document had sat somewhere, forgotten, since it was signed in 1937. The ladies who originally signed it were there the other night—and you could tell they realized that some of the present councilmen were still schoolboys in those days.

The three newest members of the council—Robert Souza, George Pagni and Peter Arrigoni Jr.—were cast in the role of "bad guys" as the scenario unfolded. Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet contributed to this, somewhat unfairly perhaps, by appealing to emotional elements of the situation.

In truth, the subject came up earlier when councilmen realized the ladies would get all the money if the building burned down, even though the city pays the premiums.

After they changed that, some of them wondered if other loopholes lurked in the shadows of their meeting place. They dusted off the lease and realized that the club has been collecting the rentals whenever an outside group uses the hall. Since a disgruntled taxpayer might one day see this as grounds for a suit against the city, the freshmen councilmen decided to take a long, hard look at the wording of the lease.

THE LADIES OBVIOUSLY have no unethical motives, for they have been losing money all the time on upkeep of the building (which they long ago assumed even though the lease fails to pin responsibility on anyone) and they use the rentals to defray these losses.

In the club members' view, they have a big moral stake in the building, since it probably would never have been built without their efforts. They are happy with the present arrangement, even though it costs them money, and cried "No" when Pagni suggested the city start keeping up the building and collecting the rent monies.

BUT IT WAS A GOOD suggestion. The ladies would lose a big headache, for one thing. Too, it is plain that the hall now sits empty 90 per cent of the time, while citizens cry over the lack of recreational or meeting space.

The ladies said they don't rent it more often because they are "very particular" who they rent to. But, just as that disgruntled taxpayer might have no sympathy with their moral claims, many townsfolk might suspect they have been much too particular in limiting the usage of such a potentially useful building.

It will not be easy for the councilmen to persuade the Fairfax Women's Club to make any changes in its lease. How well they succeed will be a test of their collective skill as practical politicians.

THE WHOLE TOWN will benefit if they do succeed in removing the loopholes from the present arrangement.

Completes Course

Airman 2/c James R. Kearns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland P. Kearns of 60 Corte De Sabla, Greenbrae, has completed a special Air Force course for communications technicians at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Tex., and has been assigned to Osan Air Base, Korea.

Going On Goldwater Train Gets Right To Heart Of The Matter

ON GOLDWATER SPECIAL—When we started off from Washington on the Goldwater Special for a whistle-stop tour through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, a friend said, "The only thing I'm afraid of is being attacked by Indians."

"Pshaw," we said. "There ain't no Injuns going to attack our train. Not with the government giving out handouts and subsidizing the Injuns so's they ain't got the will to fight for their rights any more."

"Reckon you're right. But all the same, I wouldn't mind having some of the U.S. Cavalry on board just in case."

"Pshaw," we replied, "Goldwater ain't go no right to ask for the U.S. Cavalry just because he's going on a whistle-stop tour of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. Besides if anything happens we can always send an outrider to Fort Columbus for help."

"MEBBE YOU'RE RIGHT, but it don't make sense for a fellow like Goldwater to go bouncing around Injun country looking for votes. I think he should stick to the Eastern Seaboard and leave the pacifying of Ohio, and Illinois and Indiana to General Custer."

"You seem to be behind the times. Custer was shot and killed at Little Big Horn.

"No kidding? Does Senator Goldwater know?"

"I IMAGINE someone's told him by now. It's going to shake him up quite a bit; him being a major general and everything."

"Well, Goldwater's been warning us we're going to get into a war if we keep giving in to the Injuns."

"The only thing the Injuns understand is strength."

"If you ask me, I think the president's soft on Redskins."

"He's always trying to accommodate them," we agreed.

"Do you have an advance on any of Goldwater's speeches?"

"No, but I heard he's going to tell the Injuns if they don't quit all that violence in the streets, he's going to stop building streets."

"WHAT ABOUT the testing of gun powder?"

"He's for it. He says the War Department is lying to the American people and not telling them the truth about what the Injuns have up their sleeves."

"Injuns don't have sleeves."

"That's exactly Senator Goldwater's point."

"WHERE DO YOU think the Injuns will attack?"

"Probably somewhere near Chillicothe. I think it would have been safer if we went by wagon train."

"I disagree with you. The railroads are getting much safer. Besides they're more modern and you can cover a lot more ground. You got folks never saw a presidential candidate before, that can see him for the first time."

"I guess you're right. Following a presidential candidate on a stage coach can be pretty wearying."

"Elections sure have changed in just a few years. Did you ever think you'd go out on a train with a presidential candidate and make six whistle stops in one day?"

"NO, SIR, I never did, and I don't think Goldwater did, either."

The train started to move out and as we settled down an arrow came right through the window and hit our friend in the chest. As we knelt over him we noticed a message attached to the arrow. All it said was "In your heart you know I'm right." It was signed "Sitting Bull."

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 7, the 281st day of 1964 with 85 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Jupiter, Mars and Venus. The evening star is Saturn.

American poet James Whitcomb Riley was born on this date in 1849.

On this day in history:

In 1777, American Revolutionary forces led by Gen. Horatio Gates defeated the British triips in the second Battle of Saratoga.

In 1940, troops of Nazi Germany occupied Rumania in World War II.

In 1960, at least 51 persons were killed or missing when a typhoon hit the Philippines.

In 1961, 37 persons were killed when a British plane crashed in the French Pyrenes.

A thought for the day—James Whitcomb Riley said: "The ripest peach is the highest on the tree."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Third Rule In Bridge Game Requires Breaking First Two

Most bridge players follow two rules for the play of a trump contract: First you draw trumps, and then you take your finessees.

Add a third rule: Break the first two rules on difficult hands.

Opening lead — ♣ J

South ruffed the second club, led a trump to dummy's ace and returned a trump. Fortunately, the jack showed up, and South's queen forced out the king. West returned the ten of clubs, and South ruffed again.

LAST TRUMP

Declarer had to use up his last trump to draw West's nine, but this didn't scare him. After all, he was just following his rules.

Naturally, South went ahead with a diamond to the jack and the jack of hearts for a finesse. Alas for the rules! West won with the king of hearts and took the setting trick with the nine of clubs.

South can make the contract after drawing trumps if he doesn't take the heart finesse. He must take the ace and jack of diamonds and then lead the eight of clubs, discarding a heart from his hand.

BREAK BOTH

West is out of diamonds, and either a heart or a club return gives declarer his tenth trick.

It's foolish to rely on West to have only two diamonds. South can surely make his contract if he breaks both rules. He must not draw trumps, and he must not take the heart finesse.

After ruffing the 10 of clubs, South runs his diamonds to discard hearts from dummy.

FAILS TO RUFF

If West fails to ruff, South discards two hearts from dummy, cashes the ace of hearts and ruffs a heart in dummy to produce ten easy tricks.

If West ruffs a diamond with the nine of spades, he must then return a heart or a club.

A heart would give South a free finesse.

If West, instead returns the nine of clubs, South ruffs. Dummy's eight of clubs is then good and will eventually give declarer his tenth trick.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ K 9 2
♥ K 5 2
♦ 8 3
♣ J 10 9 5 4

What do you say?

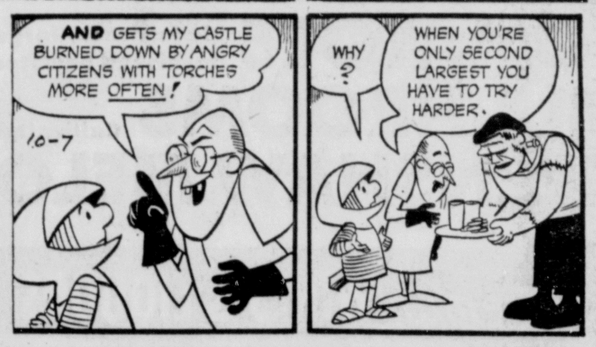

Answer: Bid two spades.

This shows trump support (at least three to a picture card) with about 6 to 10 points, including distribution.
